Bill Passed by 64 to 15 Vote to Allow State Board to Intervene In Municipal Labor Relations

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON, Wis. — The increasingly powerful political punch of unionized local government employees in Wisconsin was shown in the Assembly Monday night when the lower house of the legislature, by a top-heavy vote, approved a union-sponsored bill to permit the state labor board to intervene in municipal labor relations.

The vote was by the towering margin of 64 to 15, and over the last-ditch opposition of such normally potent lobbies as the Wisconsin County Board Association and the League of Wisconsin Municipalities.

British Cheer Red Spaceman

Gagarin Welcomed By Thousands on Arrival in London

LONDON (AP) — Shouting, cheering and applauding, thousands of Londoners gave Soviet spaceman Yuri Gagarin a hero's welcome today to the British capital.

Only 1,500 including low-ranking officials showed up at London Airport but thousands lined his 15-mile route into the city.

Workers poured out of factories, employees rushed from office buildings and stores, housewives dashed from their homes.

Special License Tag
"At some places," a police inspector told reporters, "the crowd was as big as the one that greeted President Kennedy last month but the overall turnout—well it was far short of the one that welcomed the President."

Gagarin rode in the front seat of an open Roll-Royce with a special license tag "YG-1." He was escorted by 22 uniformed motorcycle policemen.

About 300 people were in front of the Soviet Embassy. These included Russian children, in white blouses and red ties and scarfs.

Rusk Says Berlin Issue May Be Put Into Hands of U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says the Berlin crisis may be thrust into the United Nations.

Rusk, replying to questions after a speech at the National Press Club Monday, declined to estimate the chances of a war breaking out over Berlin.

But he said the issue will be around for months and "must be soberly dealt with."

"At some stage," Rusk said, the whole question of Berlin might very well "come to the attention of the United Nations."

In his talk, Rusk said "the underlying crisis of the generation arises from the fact that the Soviet Union did not join the United Nations in fact as well as in form and lend itself to the (peaceful) commitments they and the rest of us made in the midst of a great war."

Kilauea Erupts Orange Fountains

HILO, Hawaii (AP) — Kilauea volcano erupted suddenly last night with three fountains spewing bright, orange molten lava as high as 700 feet.

The eruption was in Halemau-mau, five pit on the southeast corner of the crater. It posed no danger to residents of Hawaii island or to this city of 25,000 some 38 miles to the north.

Cars jammed the narrow road from Hilo as Hawaiians and tourists flocked to get a close look. Spectators lined the rim of the 700-foot-deep pit, less than half a mile from the churning fountains. Supt. Fred Johnston of Hawaii National Park said 5,000 persons visited the rim by midnight, less than four hours after the blowup.

Halemau-mau means house of fire. It was the second Halemau-mau eruption of the year. Scientists at the volcano observatory nearby said this one could continue two or three weeks, "maybe even a month."

Rothwell Sees Longer School Year in State

Declares Added Funds to be Needed To Meet Demands

MADISON (AP)—Angus Rothwell, the new state superintendent of public instruction, said Monday that longer school days and a lengthier school year are certain to come in Wisconsin.

In his first speech since taking office a week ago, Rothwell told a conference of school administrators that the state's educational system will need more, rather than less, financial support in order to meet growing demands.

"The rise in enrollment, which has been felt in the elementary schools, is about to descend upon the high schools," Rothwell warned. "Increases up to 50 percent will occur as next year's ninth graders begin the procession."

Predicts Expansion
He predicted an expansion at both ends of the school program, as "more of Wisconsin's children will be offered kindergarten and more of our high school graduates will seek vocational and college education."

He said better use of the summer vacation periods must also be made to meet the demands the schools will face.

Rothwell said efforts will continue toward improving teacher quality through longer and better quality of preparation.

He also saw possibilities of improvement in the fields of conservation and physical fitness training.

Pakistan's Chief To See Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pakistan's President Ayub Khan arrives today for a ceremonial state visit and some straight talk with President Kennedy about his problems—India and money.

Ayub has said that Pakistan may have to make some painful decisions about retaining a member of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization and the Central Treaty Organization in the Middle East.

It's Ayub's contention that the United States is giving more attention to neutrals—India for one—than to its alliance partners.

He also has expressed his disappointment that a six-nation "aid Pakistan club" meeting with the World Bank in June had pledged only $320 million for Pakistan's development program but promised $2 billion over the next two years for India.

Ayub also wants the United States to exert more influence on India to reach a settlement of the long Pakistan-India feud over Kashmir.

Astronaut Gets Set for Second Space Venture

Unofficial Report Says Launch Effort Expected July 18

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The astronaut selected to make America's second manned space flight began his final week of preparation today, running through a series of practice missions in a land-locked spacecraft.

Speculation here centered on Air Force Capt. Virgil I. Grissom as the man most likely to make the trip with Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. as the backup pilot. Both men are undergoing training in case the No. 1 choice is unable to make the suborbital flight.

July 18 Reported Date
The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has announced only that the flight will be attempted during the week of July 16, and declined any comment on the name of the astronaut who will follow the trail blazed on May 5 by Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. Sources report July 18 is the scheduled launch date.

The flight essentially will duplicate that of Shepard, whose space capsule hurtled 115 miles high and landed 302 miles down the Atlantic range.

Some changes have been made in the capsule, and the pilot will make fewer observations than Shepard. But main purpose of the mission will be to give another astronaut a brief taste of space flight. The space agency wants to have at least four pilots trained for orbital flights scheduled to begin late this year or early in 1962.

Grissom and Glenn are experiencing simulated missions in both a mock capsule in the Mercury control center and in the real thing, which is perched atop the Redstone on the launch pad.

Grissom, 35, is from Mitchell, Minn.

Repudiates Documents

Eichmann Denies He Headed Jewish Affairs

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP)—Adolf Eichmann today rejected Israel's claim that he was the Gestapo officer in charge of Jewish affairs in the Third Reich.

He also repudiated documents after document that bore his own name and cast doubt on most of what he told his Israeli interrogators before his trial for mass slaughter of the Jews opened April 11.

Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner, cross-examining Eichmann for the third day, asked if he was chosen to be the Jewish expert for Reinhard Heydrich, the Gestapo chief-tain who was directly charged by Hitler and Heinrich Himmler with the job of exterminating the Jews.

Denies He Was Present
"That is false," said Eichmann. "I was placed in charge of evacuations. All I dealt with were railway timetables in cooperation with the Reich Transport Ministry."

Then the prosecutor presented a Nazi file of a meeting in September 1939 where the Einsatzkommando operation—the murder of two million Jews, gypsies and partisans in the East—was outlined by Heydrich. Eichmann's name was included among those present.

"I was not there," said Eichmann.

"Do you want to tell us this document is a forgery?" asked Hausner.

"It is not signed, it is not initialed," the defendant retorted. "Good," said Hausner. "You will see how many official documents of the reich you will have to call forgeries."

The attorney general led Eichmann through the so-called "Nis-

Congress Chiefs Ask More Efficient Forces

Better Use Vital, They Maintain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Methods of making better use of military manpower and equipment now on hand should get priority in a new assessment of U.S. armed strength, congressional leaders said today.

President Kennedy ordered a new look at the nation's military needs Monday following announcement of Soviet plans to increase arms spending and cancel armed manpower reductions.

The President's order for the Defense Department survey—is issued against a background of mounting concern over the Berlin situation — brought assurances Congress will provide any necessary additional funds.

But there was a strong feeling among influential senators that improved fighting efficiency with present U.S. weapons and manpower is more urgent than any mere expansion of the Pentagon's budget.

Critical of Kennedy
This was linked with fresh criticism of Kennedy's decision to end the production of bombers in September, 1962.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said Congress already has made more money available than the administration has shown a willingness to use to strengthen the armed forces.

"In my judgment, the Senate will vote the full amount of de-

Factory Worker Earnings Set Record for June

WASHINGTON (AP) — Factory worker earnings jumped to a new record in June with an increase in pay rates and a return to an average work week of more than 40 hours.

Seymour Wolfbein, head of the Labor Department's Manpower Statistics section, said the figures are bolstering evidence of the economic upturn.

The figure elaborated on data released last week showing that employment rose by nearly 2 million in June to 68.7 million, a record, and that unemployment also rose by more than 800,000 to 5.6 million.

Today's breakdown of those totals showed further big employment gains in factory work, which had been the hardest hit sector in the recent recession.

Factory employment rose 240,000 in June to 16 million, more than twice the expected seasonal increase. Steel, autos, and related industries registered large gains and increases were general in hard goods industries.

The average weekly earnings of factory workers rose to a record of $94.24 in June. This is an increase of $1.34 from May and $2.64 above a year ago.

Nelson Signs Bill to Get Uniform Reports On Traffic Accidents

MADISON (AP)—Gov. Gaylord Nelson signed a bill Monday requiring all Wisconsin law enforcement agencies, after next January first, to file uniform reports of traffic accidents with the State Motor Vehicle Department.

Under current law, the only required reports are those filed by drivers of the vehicle involved. After the end of this year, reports to the state will be required of any accident resulting in injury or death or an estimated total property damage of $100 or more. The reports are due ten days after the accident and will be submitted on special forms to be drawn up by the Motor Vehicle Department.

Mrs. William Roeber, Bellaire, Tex., watches over her exhausted daughter Becky, 12, after the girl was found alive and without serious injuries yesterday. She was lost for three days along the Oregon seaboard.

Girl Rescued After Ordeal in Oregon

Helicopter Crew Flies Through Fog to Land on Rocky Beach

SEASIDE, Ore. (AP)—Twelve-year-old Becky Roeber—lost on the rocky Oregon Coast—survived a three-day ordeal without food and with only a trickle of water from a spring until a daring helicopter crew flew through fog to her rescue.

Becky, who comes from Bellaire, Tex., is recuperating in a hospital here today.

Perilous Rescue
The helicopter crew approached perilously close to the cliffs to land on a narrow and rocky beach where the girl was found Monday.

"If I had a million dollars," said Mrs. William Roeber, the girl's mother, "I couldn't begin to repay all the wonderful people who offered us their help."

Said her father "Neither Becky's mother nor her grandfather nor I had ever given up hope. I just couldn't believe she had fallen into the ocean."

Becky's grandfather, Peter Long, had flown to the Oregon Coast from Houston, Tex., when he learned she was missing. He led search parties throughout the night Sunday.

She was spotted by a fisherman, Unio Rautio of Seaside.

Summons Help
"She saw me before I saw her," Rautio said. "She called for help and I knew who she was. I had the little lost girl in the back of my mind. I knew no one had given this particular area a thorough search."

Rautio said he gave her some food and water, carried her to the shore.

Pact Signed by China, N. Korea

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China and North Korea today signed a mutual assistance pact, Peiping radio reported.

North Korea signed a similar pact with the Soviet Union in Moscow last week during a visit by Premier Kim Il-sung.

The broadcast said the pact was signed in Peiping by Kim and Premier Chou En-lai of Red China.

"The Soviet pact pledges to come to North Korea's aid if it is attacked. Since Korea borders on Red China, this was considered a challenge home for women at Taycheedah."

The former president said he had no quarrel with the Kennedy administration over its stand on a rift between Moscow and Peiping.

Ike Says Nation Must Stand Firmly in Berlin

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said today the United States must "stand firmly in Berlin and not let anybody scare us out."

"Berlin has always been an explosive situation," Eisenhower said, "but America's spirit and courage are up to it. The United States is strong and we shouldn't scare ourselves to death. We should keep confident and strong and keep our powder dry."

Blue Coconut Shells Create U.N. Problem

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Painted blue and worn as hats, coconut shells are helping the Congo's Luntu tribesmen keep their heads in time of crisis.

But for the U.N. Congo command the new Luntu headgear is another headache.

Coconuts, explained a U.N. spokesman today, were behind a protest fired off this week by "King" Albert Kalonji of South Kasai Province.

The monarch of the Baluba tribe complained to the U.N. command that Luntu tribesmen dressed as U.N. soldiers were crossing his frontier and raiding border villages. The Luntu wore the same blue helmets as U.N. troops, Kalonji charged.

Escaped Attacks
U.N. officials investigated but found no uniforms or helmets were going astray.

Then they visited a Luntu village near Luluabourg—and found blue-painted coconut shells adorning the heads of several young warriors.

"The Balubas and the Luntus are traditional enemies," explained the U.N. spokesman. "We didn't find any evidence that the Luntu were raiding the Balubas."

But the Luntus found that by wearing these improvised blue helmets they passed as U.N. troops and escaped attack by the Balubas.

12 Held as Terrorists

9 Indicted for Harassing Pair By Vandalism, Telephoned Threats

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The grand jury last night indicted nine youths on charges of terrorizing a middle-aged Jewish couple for 15 months.

Twelve youths were accused of waging a campaign of vandalism and malicious mischief that included telephoning Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowman at all hours of the day and night with anti-Semitic insults and threats, tossing beer bottles through windows and burning the couple's car.

From Good Homes
"We lost 15 months of our lives," Bowman said. The 59-year-old dealer in furniture said he also lost 20 to 25 pounds during the ordeal.

Nine of the youths, over 18, were indicted for conspiracy to commit arson, malicious mischief, making lewd phone calls and disturbing the peace. The other three, under 18, were ordered turned over to juvenile authorities. Authorities withheld the names of the accused youths.

Police said all came from good homes, that one is the son of a San Francisco fire officer and two others are sons of a Daly City policeman.

Bowman, a furniture dealer who came to the United States from Austria in 1929, said he and his wife became so afraid that they barricaded their doors at night.

He said the doorbell was rung at all hours by cab drivers and by deliverymen bringing pizzas, chickens, chop suey and other items from "Home delivery restaurants, items not ordered by the Bowmans."

"Because of repeated vandalism to our car the insurance company cancelled our auto insurance policy," Bowman told newsmen after the San Francisco grand jury session.

"They threatened to cancel the fire and theft insurance on our house," he added.

He said the callers praised Adolf Hitler and made anti-Jewish comments or obscene remarks.

One caller told them, "If Eichmann dies, you die," referring to the trial of Adolph Eichmann in Jerusalem.

Police, who spent months on the case before finally tracing a call, said the youths told them the whole thing started as a joke.

When asked why the Bowmans had been persecuted, one of the youths told police:

Many Phone Calls
"For the obvious reason—we had nothing else to do."

Bowman said sometimes there would be as many as 30 calls in 24 hours.

White paint was poured over his car and once the whole side was hashed in. Then one night the tormentors poured gunpowder on the fender and set fire to it.

Last week one of the phone calls was traced to three youths. They implicated the others.

UAW Asks Salaries Rather Than Wages

Ford, General Motors Resume Talks as Auto Workers List Key Proposals on Contracts

DETROIT (AP) — Salaries for labor relations for GM, said, "We all—a key United Auto Workers demand—leads the list of union negotiations proposals under study by General Motors today."

General Motors and Ford resume their separate talks with the UAW today while Chrysler Corp. headed back to the bargaining tables after a weekend recess.

The UAW proposed to GM Monday that the giant auto firm pay salaries rather than hourly wages and asked a voice in the relocation of GM plants or operations.

Strict Controls
At Ford the UAW called for strict controls over overtime work during periods of unemployment in order to spread available work and a stronger voice in the setting of production standards.

Earl B. Bramblett, director of just listened to the UAW proposals and had a couple of comments. We will make our formal reply in a few days when the UAW finishes the preliminary presentation of its case."

Leonard Woodcock, vice president in charge of the UAW's General Motors department, described employment by the hour as "obsolete, uneconomic, irresponsible and unjust."

Accept Salaries
"We propose that the corporation accept the principle of salaried status for hourly workers and that we determine what groups of workers can be transferred to salaried status immediately and work out details on the transition," he said.

The union also asked a vastly improved supplemental unemployment benefit program, with a boost in dollar benefits for a maximum of 52 instead of 26 weeks, and protection for workers affected by the closing of plants or the transfer of operations.

On production standards at Ford, the union said the basic problem "is that of deciding whether the worker is to be viewed as a human being in his own right or as merely one of the tools of production."

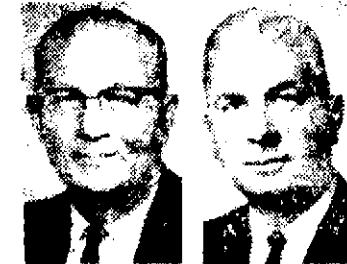

"Management," the UAW said, "in its desire to get maximum efficiency, tends to regard the worker as a tool."

Political Machine Of Senator Byrd Fights to Survive

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Virginia voters choose the Democratic nominees for the state's top three offices in a primary election today that poses a fresh challenge to the long reign of the Byrd political organization.

The primary has been tantamount to election for state officers in Virginia, which has gone for the Republican nominee in the past three presidential elections. Two full states of candidates—something of a rarity in Democratic primaries—are on the ball-

The other ticket is headed by Lt. Gov. A. E. Stephens, a former member of the Byrd group who has taken some slinging verbal slaps at the organization during a hard-fought primary campaign.

Dog Saves Life Of Man Lost in Mojave Desert

Was Stranded for Week Without Food, After Losing Way

CAMP IRWIN, Calif. (AP)—A 53-year-old man with an artificial leg, stranded for a week without food in searing desert heat, says his dog saved his life.

Ramon C. Miller, a furniture buyer from Fresno, was found Monday by two ordnance inspectors in a remote section of the Camp Irwin military reservation, 85 miles northeast of San Bernardino.

Took Shortcut
He said he took a shortcut across the Mojave Desert July 4, then ran out of gas south of Death Valley and northeast of Barstow.

Doctors at the camp hospital said both Miller and his dog, Gretchen, were in remarkably good condition and probably will leave the hospital today.

"I was just about ready to give up," Miller said. "I never would have made it if it hadn't been for Gretchen." He said the dog defended him from coyotes as he fled in a desert cave.

Wrong Road
Miller said he took a wrong road last Tuesday night while en route from Phoenix to Fresno.

"I stayed by my truck all night after we ran out of gas," he said. "The road looked pretty well traveled so we took off on foot the next day to look for a place to buy gas."

"Nobody came along. We walked six or seven hours. After a while I saw a sign that said 'springs' and followed a path until we reached the springs, about noon Wednesday."

Took Shelter
They took shelter in a cave at the springs, where there was water. They were found there by Richard Friemuth and Phil Den-

Wilson, who were inspecting the Irwin Firing Range.

Miller estimated he walked 15 miles to the spring. He had no food, no water and no way to start a fire. He had a cigarette lighter in his pocket and didn't realize it until I was a dozen miles away."

Ozark Farmer Finally Moved Off His Land

PITTSBURG, Mo. (AP)—A U.S. marshal leaped over a fence Monday and tackled Otto A. Blume, climaxing a year-long effort to get the Ozark farmer to vacate his land for a federal reservoir.

Blume has left an $8,000 government check for his property unclaimed rather than surrender.

"I'll shoot your legs right out from under you," he warned officers previously.

Monday, U.S. Marshal F. M. Richard Friemuth and Phil Den-

Wilson and two deputies cornered him along his fence line. The explained the law and when he cursed them soundly and then started for his house, Wilson tackled him.

Blume, in his 60s, gave up after a scuffle, and watched in silence as the marshals loaded his belongings on a truck, then had the house bulldozed.

Blume's eight watchdogs were unable to help him. The marshals had fed them hamburger meat spiked with tranquilizer, and left them at the dog pound.

Birch Society Threat to NAACP, Negro Leader Says

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The chairman of the board of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People says the John Birch Society in a way is more of a threat to the organization "than iron-pipe mobsters in Alabama."

The chairman, the Right Rev. Stephen Gill Spottswood, told some 1,200 delegates to the opening session of the NAACP's 32nd annual convention Monday night that the organization must intensify and speed its attack on racial barriers.

Singles Out Klan

The clergyman also singled out as major opponents the white Citizens Council, the Ku Klux Klan, the Southern Gentlemen, Inc., and some Southern governors including Gov. John Patterson of Alabama.

Spottswood, who is a bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, said The Birch Society "wears the robes of respectability and does not conduct its campaigns in gutters and alleys."

He said the Birch Society's No. 1 objective "is the impeachment of Chief Justice Earl Warren of the United States Supreme Court for handing down the school segregation ruling."

The society "is also against federal civil rights and for leaving such matters to the states," the bishop said.

In another address before the convention, Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania said that efforts by minority groups to improve their status lead to a general uplift of the community at large. But the governor contended that the first interest of minority groups must be "the advancement of the American nation."

Gov. Nelson Calls for End To 'Slaughter'

MADISON (AP)—Gov. Gaylord Nelson said Monday he was concerned about the "needless slaughter" of 21 persons on Wisconsin roads during the weekend and would move speedily to hold a safety conference aimed at adopting stringent enforcement measures.

Nelson said he hoped the meeting could be staged next week.

Nelson declared: "If people aren't shocked by the 21 deaths last weekend and by the constant reporting of traffic deaths in the press, the answer isn't a traffic emergency declaration every week but a conference that will pass and plug for a get-tough policy on our roads."

He said plans for the conference were begun some time ago and need only to be completed by final details before it will be called.

The governor had declared a traffic emergency for the July 4th holiday period, in which eight persons lost their lives in highway accidents. During the July 7-9 weekend these accidents cost 21 lives in Wisconsin.

Widow of Architect Wright Reported In Good Condition

DODGEVILLE (AP) — Mrs. Frank Lloyd Wright, widow of the famous architect, was reported in good condition at a hospital here following surgery for efforts by minority groups to improve their status lead to a general uplift of the community at large. But the governor contended that the first interest of minority groups must be "the advancement of the American nation."

Mrs. Wright, who lives near Spring Green, was taken to the hospital Sunday.

Her physician said she would leave the hospital in a week or ten days.

Elections in Columbia May Mean Trouble

Alternation System Of Presidents Comes Under Leftist Fire

BY JAMES C. DEWEY

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — At least a year remains before new presidential elections, but the problem of finding a successor to Alberto Lleras Camargo is beginning to cause ripples of uneasiness in Colombian life.

Private economic development has slowed drastically. Most investors, fearing the incendiary character of Colombian politics, are adopting a wait-and-see attitude. Colombia is only beginning to recover from a tragic eight years of savage political violence that left a death toll estimated variously from 100,000 to 300,000.

New outbreaks of violence in the interior and seething inter-party attacks show just how tenuous is the truce that resulted four years ago in the formation of a national front coalition government of rival conservatives and liberals.

The hatreds, jealousies and antagonism between the two parties are part of the Colombian character.

In 1958 Lleras, a liberal, was elected president over his conservative rival, Jorge Leyva. But in and the conservatives. The liberal party renounced its rights to put up a candidate in the 1962 election.

The national front — the coalition of liberals and conservatives — was formed in 1957 and helped precipitate Rojas' fall. Its basic principle of parity for both parties in government positions was approved by plebiscite.

Judge Issues Order Halting Ship Strike

Injunction Dates Back to July 3 When Government Obtained Temporary Writ

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge has issued an 80-day Taft-Hartley law injunction against the national maritime strike which curtailed American-flag shipping for 18 days.

The injunction—dated back to July 3 when a temporary restraining order ended the strike—bans any resumption of the walk-out until Sept. 21.

Will Appeal
A union lawyer said the order, issued Monday by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Sylvester J. Ryan, will be appealed to the U.S. Court of Appeals.

The appeal announcement was made by the office of Lee Pressman, attorney for the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, one of the five unions that struck in contract disputes. Other unions may join in the appeal.

The unions have argued that the strike did not endanger the national health or security, and noted that the tieup did not affect foreign-flag ships which carry the bulk of the nation's trade. In addition, the strikers had cleared all ships carrying military cargo.

Ryan directed the unions and the six company groups involved in the dispute to continue collective bargaining in an effort to settle their differences before the Sept. 21 deadline.

In addition to the MEBA, the unions which struck are the Masters, Mates and Pilots; the National Maritime Union; the Seafarers International Union and the American Radio Association. The total membership of the unions is about 82,000.

Ryan ruled that continuance of the strike would endanger "the national health and safety." He said he was not being swayed by the national administration.

1959, with liberal backing, the legislature voted to alternate the presidency between the liberals. This scheme of alternation is to operate until 1974.

The plan, however, has come under recent heavy attack from a splinter liberal group headed by Alfonso Lopez Michelsen, writer, professor of constitutional law, and son of a former president.

Lopez, who describes his leftist-oriented revolutionary liberal movement as a new force, opposes the national front and the alternation of the presidency on the ground that Colombia needs far-reaching social changes. Communists and Castroists alike have found a haven in the movement.

Under the 1959 constitutional amendment that says a conservative must be elected president in 1962, a Lopez Michelsen candidate — probably himself — would have no legal standing, but popular swing to his group could make the conservative candidate's position untenable and open the way to renewed political violence.

MADISON (AP)—Approval of a freeway system for Wisconsin could be attached to the pack- and a bill tax calling for repeal age.

The measure, already favored by the Assembly, would authorize the highway commission to designate existing or proposed highways for four-lane construction and inclusion in the freeway or expressway system.

The system would be limited to 300 miles under an amendment by Sen. Jess Miller, R-Richland Center.

Repeal of Tax

Repeal of the 15-cent-a-pound tax on oleomargarine and of license fees for sellers and commercial users won preliminary approval in the Assembly by a 54-30 vote.

Rejected were proposed amendments to require oleo to be colored "light green," that the words "substitute for butter" appear on the package, and that repeal of the tax would be effective 60 days after Congress passes legislation insuring the free flow of milk in interstate commerce.

Under terms of the bill, oleo

House and we will hope the administration will use the money," Russell said. "It would be damaging to our prestige abroad to saw off our production of manned aircraft next year."

The House last month passed a $42.7 billion defense appropriation bill, including $449 million for development of the B70 bomber and the purchase of additional B52s.

Urges Care in Spending

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said in a separate interview that, as he views it, the need is not so much for more money as it is for increased efficiency in spending the funds provided by Congress.

"I am sorry to see that the White House seems to have lost contact with the Joint Chiefs of Staff," he said.

This was an allusion to Kennedy's failure to include the service chiefs in a weekend conference on the Berlin situation. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, his personal adviser, sat in as the only military man.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., assistant Senate GOP leader, predicted Congress will give bipartisan support to any military or diplomatic proposals Kennedy makes.

Efficiency Needed

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, told his colleagues Monday the Army isn't getting full fighting power out of its present forces. He agreed with Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., that the possible exception of the British, the Army has a lower proportion of combat soldiers than a high bluff to the beach. the shelter of a large rock, then ran and yelled for help. His shouts were heard by a nearby search party, and rescuers converged on the beach area. Eight men made their way, half sliding, down the precarious incline to the beach.

Then the helicopter, piloted by 1st Lt. Dennis M. Chase, Portland, ducked through a hole in the fog bank and skimmed over the ocean waters to take the girl to safety.

It still was not clear late Monday how Beckey arrived at the narrow strip of beach.

The Seaside doctor who treated her, Frederick Rawls, said that she was in good condition, except that she was "badly dehydrated" from lack of water.

In a copyrighted interview with the Houston Post, Mrs. Roever said Beckey's right foot was injured by a high bluff to the beach. She said her daughter also suffered a minor head injury, some deep scratches and two black eyes but II to develop a new rifle for the Army. He said the ground forces would recover. Newspaper's Advice

Be Nice to 'Soapy,' Africa Told

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — The Rand Daily Mail says that South Africa's government should be nice to G. Mennen Williams, the U. S. Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs, when he comes here next month.

Most newspapers here refer to Williams by his nickname "Soapy" and some print cracks about "not getting into a lather about him."

Williams' second trip to Africa will concentrate on the area south of the Congo, which is still white-ruled. The remark attributed to Williams on his earlier tour of black-ruled countries—"Africa for the Africans"—provoked official condemnation in white-ruled countries like South Africa and the neighboring Rhodesian Federation.

Governments-in-Waiting

But now that Williams is coming down this way some officials are trying to make the best of it. Sir Roy Welensky, Prime Minister of the Rhodesian Federation, recently told the federal parliament: "I am anxious that Mr. Williams should see for himself conditions in the Federation and meet a representative cross section of the people who live here. I'd like to venture the hope that Mr. Williams might find it interesting to measure the Federation's solid achievements under a government pledged to policy of partnership between the races against the likelihood of having implemented the wild promises made by various leaders of extremist governments-in-waiting."

The Rand Daily Mail—a frequent critic of Prime Minister Verwoerd's white-supremacy government—said Williams made "some ill-chosen remarks" on his first trip to Africa. But the paper said there was no getting away from the fact that Williams' position made him "an important man not only in the American government but also in Africa."

Astronaut Gets Set for Second Space Venture

Ind. Glenn, 39, who was Shepard's backup, is a native of New Concord, Ohio.

Three major changes have been made in the spacecraft, partly based on recommendations by Shepard after his pioneer journey.

They are:

1. A new, larger observation window to replace two viewpoints which Shepard found inadequate.
2. A more advanced manual control system for steering the spacecraft. It will be in addition to the manual system used by Shepard.
3. A new escape hatch with 70 explosive bolts for a more rapid escape from the vehicle in an emergency.

Judge Upholds Suit Giving Man $34,681

WAUSAU (AP)—Federal Judge Patrick Stone Monday upheld a jury verdict awarding $34,681 in a suit against Dr. G. E. Bourget of Hudson.

The claim was filed by Frank Doriot of Bayport, Minn., whose wife died a year ago.

The Federal court jury which returned the original verdict heard testimony that an eight-inch surgical clamp had been left in Mrs. Doriot's body after surgery in June, 1960.

Judge Stone denied a defense motion that the verdict be set aside on the ground the physician was only an assistant at the operation.

Find New Way To Say 'Stay Off the Grass'

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The University of Louisville is using the intellectual approach to keep students from walking on the grass.

Louis F. Muller, grounds supervisor, Monday installed two lecture-like signs reading:

"To the art student: We appeal to your sense of beauty."

"To the math student: The shortest distance between two points is not a straight line."

"To the science student: Cynodon dactylon (Bermuda grass) is not indestructible."

"To the psychology student: We appeal to your inner emotions."

"To the music student: Like man — yeah! The walks are to walk on."

On the bottom of the notices is a more traditional phrase — "Please use the walks."

state labor department, as well as fact finding reports upon the initiative of the state agency or at the petition of disputing parties.

Opponents tried in vain to amend the bill. One unsuccessful amendment would have made public employees strikes illegal.

Although most of the opposition to the bill came from the Republican side of the Assembly, both Conservative and Laborite newspapers criticized the government for not giving Gagarin a real hero's welcome.

Good Deal More

The Daily Mail said the South African government made a mistake by merely expressing its agreement to Williams' visit here, instead of inviting him. The paper's editorial said: "No one can possibly find fault with Mr. Williams for coming to see Africa for himself. That is a good deal more than many foreign critics of African affairs have done."

Chicago Thief Admits Charges

Man Who Implicated Policemen Tells Jury He's a 'Pro'

CHICAGO (AP)—Richard Morrison, the burglar who implicated eight former Chicago policemen in an alleged burglary spree, has told the all-woman jury he is a perjurer, a thief and a burglar.

Morrison, 25, testified in reply to cross examination by defense lawyers Monday that he is a professional thief and burglar. The usually certain to be enacted with defense was seeking to discredit Gov. Nelson's testimony which implicated Morrison and Lawton in a series of former law associates. The governor once was employed by the employee unions Lawton now leads.

The state's chief witness answered with a simple "yes" to the questions: "You have been a professional burglar for quite some time, haven't you?" "You have been a professional thief for quite some time, haven't you?" "You have committed perjury from the witness stand before, haven't you?"

Morrison earlier identified 24 items which he said were taken in burglaries and found Jan. 14, 1960, in the homes of the policemen when he accompanied investigators who arrested the officers.

who presented Gagarin an armful of roses.

He was applauded and he turned, applauded the applauders.

The restrained official welcome for Gagarin began to build up. Sir Bernard Waley-Cohen, Lord Mayor of London, invited him to Mansion House (the mayor's official home) Thursday.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has notified the Soviet Embassy he too, would like to meet Gagarin that day.

Queen Elizabeth invited Gagarin to lunch at Buckingham Palace on Friday. This will mean that Gagarin's visit will be extended to at least four days.

Because Gagarin came on a private visit as the guest of the Soviet Trade Fair, the welcoming committee was headed by a virtually unknown civil servant, Francis Turnbull, secretary to Lord Hailsham's science ministry.

Both Conservative and Laborite newspapers criticized the government for not giving Gagarin a real hero's welcome.

Board Approves Paddling for Defiant Pupils

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The suburban Oakwood School board has legalized paddling pupils who are serious disciplinary problems.

There has been an unwritten law against paddling there for many years.

"Some youngsters have just been talked to death. We have talked, talked, talked to them," George Pfeiffer, the superintendent, told the board.

"Some are quite defiant and tell us in no uncertain terms, 'You can do what you want to, but you can't put your hands on me.' These are the youngsters who need paddling."

Broiler Fumes Nearly Kill 5

RICE LAKE (AP)—Five members of a family were nearly asphyxiated early today after they had taken a charcoal broiler indoors to escape a threatening thunderstorm.

Harvey Fisher Sr., 51; his wife, 43; son Harvey Jr., 19; the Fisher's daughter, Mrs. Joe Kuka, 24; and her 25-year-old husband, were overcome at the Marian Worden resort operated by the Fishers.

Mrs. Fisher succeeded in arousing the others by screaming. Authorities said they helped drag each other out of the building and reached the hospital here by taking turns driving.

The broiler was taken indoors Sunday evening but continued to burn through the night.

It is estimated that about half of all the public employees at the local level of government are now in the GOP-controlled house. Several of the Republican Assembly caucus leaders led the fight for the approving vote.

The surprisingly heavy support for a union measure that would have failed inevitably only a few years ago is generally attributed to the successful organization of drives of the unions in the city halls and courthouses of the state in recent years.

It is estimated that about half of all the public employees at the local level of government are now in the GOP-controlled house. Several of the Republican Assembly caucus leaders led the fight for the approving vote.

Slayer Loses 3rd Try for Pardon

MADISON (AP) — John Schulz of Milwaukee has lost another attempt to obtain a pardon from the life term he is serving at Waupun State Prison for the slaying of his mother, sister and brother in 1952.

Gov. Nelson did not detail his reasons Monday for denying Schulz's third application. Schulz was 16 when he shot and killed the three members of his family after his mother had refused to allow him use of the family car. Previous pardon applications were turned down in 1958 and 1960.

The governor also denied clemency to Gorman White of Antigo, to cancel its call for bids on the paroled last June. He had been convicted of a morals charge.

Film Treks Abroad

Tied Up With Finances

Race to Beat Uncle Sam May Rate

Small Grumbles by Other Taxpayers

BY JINGO

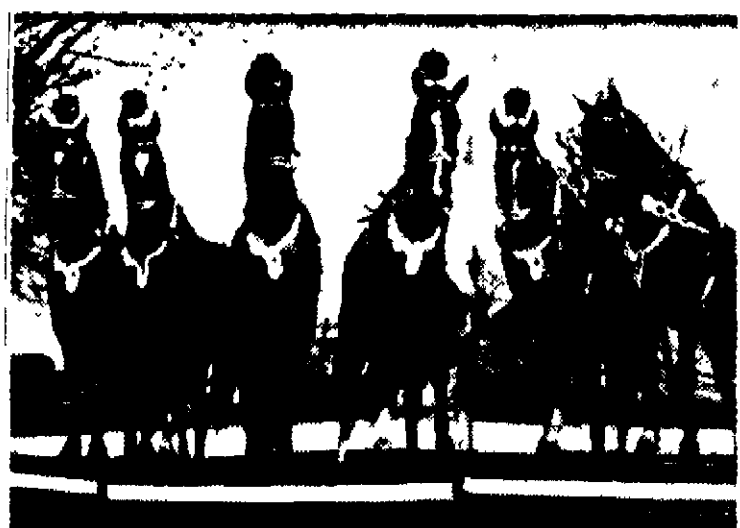

There has been some grumbling about Hollywood stars, personnel and equipment leaving the home shores for foreign locales. Perhaps some of the reasons may justify a little grumble—for envy if nothing else.

The internal revenue laws are causing a number of the stars to take up residence in Switzerland to save a little more of their fabulous wages from Uncle Sam. They say 18 months will do the trick and it's a trick many of the movie people are turning these days.

Another reason for the foreign film shooting is bound up with money too. Most of the foreign countries freeze money earned within their boundaries. If a company hits it big on a film it has to make another show in that country to use up the cash it made.

The penchant for using idle foreign troops in spectaculars is an other reason for the exodus. Tito's army should be about as familiar to film goes as the stars.

Perhaps one of the biggest reasons for leaving Hollywood is reflected in Tinseltown's preoccupation with TV. There isn't stage space left for film there. The Big Stop and Margie series for instance, are using two permanent city streets constructed in Hollywood for $500,000. And the new 'Follow the Sun' series is using five soundstages permanently. The big awards may have come but you will be able to in Captain Grubb's Military liberty horses are among the acts featured with the Great Hagen Bros. Three-Ring Tent Circus coming to Appleton Thursday. The circus, sponsored by American Legion Post 38, will perform at 2:30 and 8 p.m. under a waterproof big top on the legion showgrounds.

Introduce your young ones to the good doctor without causing them the trouble of turning a page. Columbia Pictures is producing the books for the big screen.

Jack "Dum-Dee Dum" Webb, despite his less than successful forays into the silver screen, is a dum is whumping up a feature co-starring Robert Mitchum. It is said narcotics is the theme.

Stanley Kramer made the nation's skin crawl with 'On the Beach' and is ready to work on the world's conscience with the soon to be released 'Judgement at Nuremberg'. Now he is aiming at 'something a little less serious' which is the tentative title of a really great spectacular. He's lining up a 'few' fun men such as Bob Hope, Red Skelton, Jerry Lewis, Jack Benny, Jack Lemmon, George Burns, George Gobel and Bob Newhart. With a payroll like that Stanley is flirting with real tragedy if the show flops.

Speaking of 'Judgement', show Judy Garland will be a luminary in a stellar cast. Advance reports say she is tremendous and the appearance is a big step up in her long awaited comeback. On March 11 Judy will star

Theatrical Anniversary

Neenah Couple Teams Up On, Off Riverside Stage

The opening of Riverside Players production 'Moliere's School for Husbands' Thursday marks a special kind of theatrical anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Willis. Ten years ago to the date was the first time Willis star of the Riverside production and his wife Jackie show director ever teamed up on a production. The show was another Moliere comedy, 'The Doctor in Spite of Himself' at Cornell Summer Theatre Mount Vernon, Iowa.

The Willis have collaborated on many productions since their first joint directing venture, both as actors and directors.

Throughout their undergraduate years at Cornell they worked together in college productions. After graduation Jackie worked for two years in professional stock companies in the South and Midwest.

Then Dick went to Lawrence College as speech teacher and assistant director of the Lawrence College Theatre. During that time

Alcoholics Number About 5.4 Million

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, chairman of the National Committee for the Prevention of Alcoholism, says the disease is on the increase in the United States.

The Chicago physician told a medical seminar on alcoholism that alcoholics in this country which recently opened off-Broadway, now number about 5.4 million.

Yvonne Tarr Advances From Checkroom Girl To Author, Lyricist

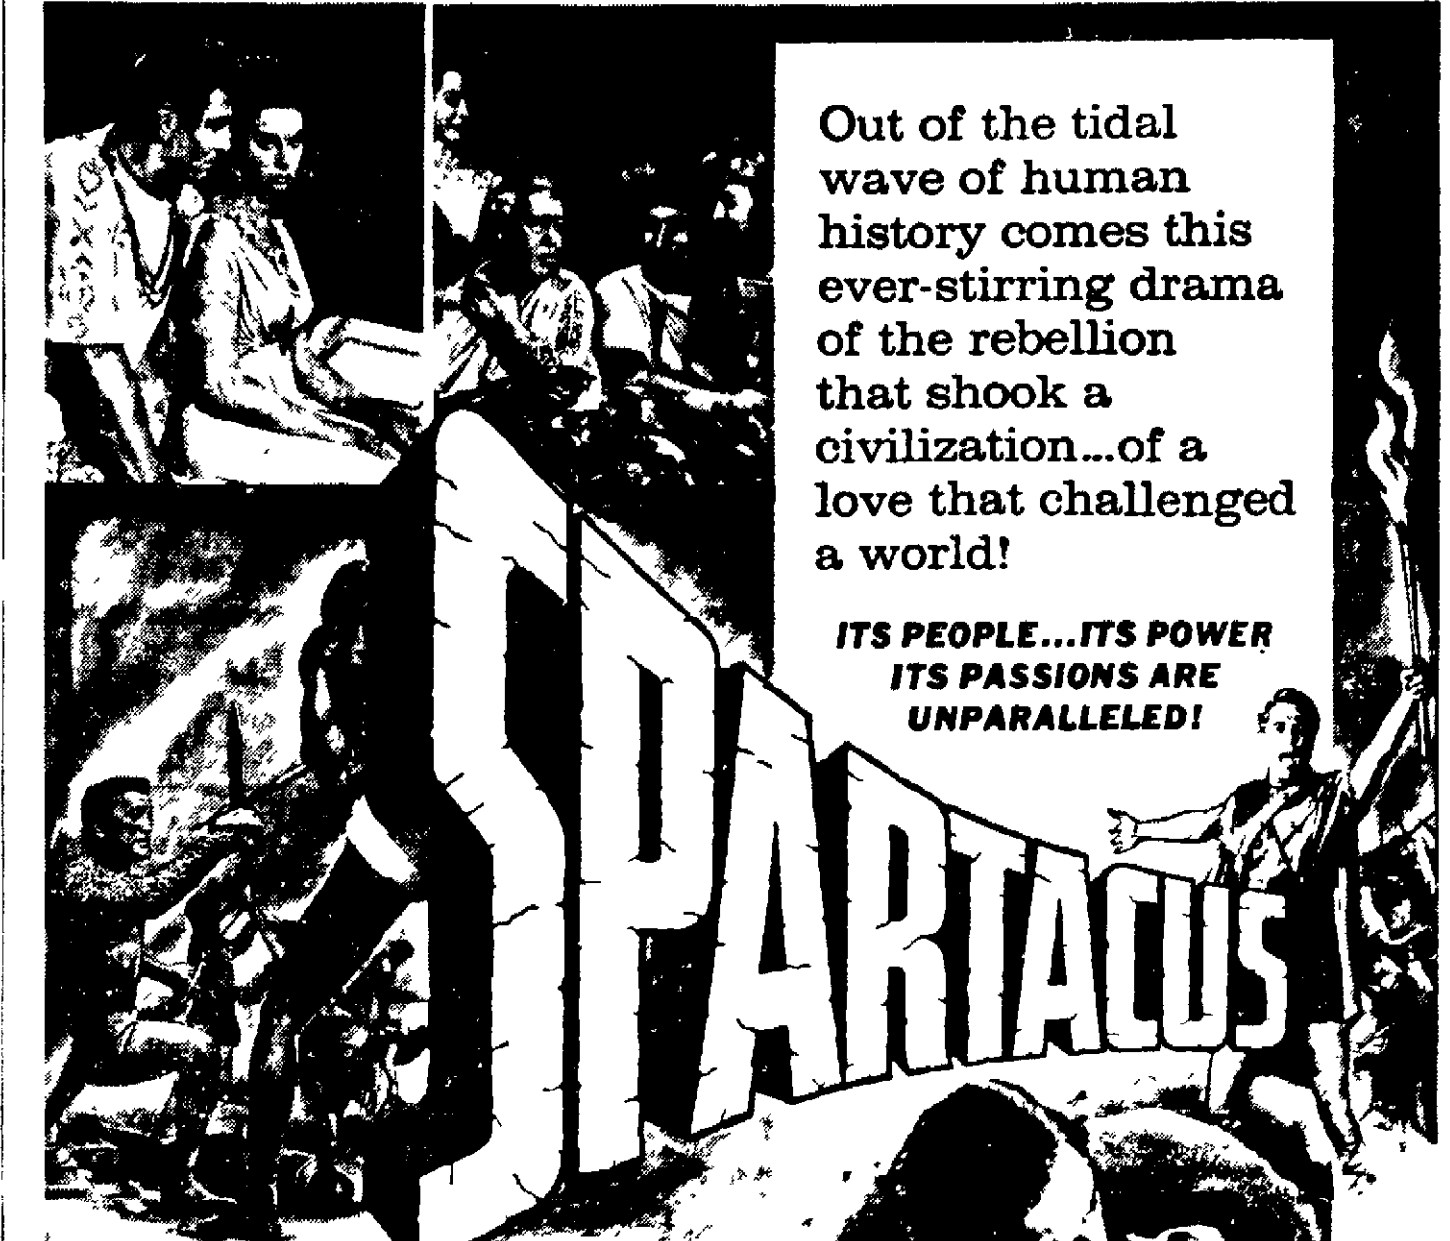

NEW YORK (AP) — Theatrical talent thrives even in a night club checkroom.

Yvonne Tarr, who previously worked amid hats and wraps at the Little Club, is author and lyricist of 'The Decameron'.

Tom Hadley Fires 67 On Ridgeway Course

Don Jabas Shoots '3-Under' 32 For BDM Honors

A veritable explosion of sub-80 scoring marked action at Fox Cities golf courses over the weekend.

Tom Hadley sizzled his way around the Neenah Ridgeway layout with a 5-under-par 67. The former University of Minnesota star also fired a 73.

Also under par at Ridgeway was Dick Spangenberg, with a 69. He added a 76. Harry Binek turned in a 79, including an eagle on the par-4 No. 7 hole.

Other Ridgeway honor scores were by Herb Slinski, 77, 72, 73, 74; Clem Rossmessl, 76; Harley Loker, 76, 75; Otto Lieber, 78; Ray Doell, 76, 74; Gerry Lewellyn, 79; Conrad Verbrick, 79; Elmer Selig, 76, 75, 76; Monty Luka, 76; Bob Smith, 72; Russ Berggren, 75; Jack Nottebaart, 78; Ray Turkow, 77; Pat Murphy, 77; Bob Hogan, 77.

Don Jabas scorched the back nine holes at Butte des Morts with a 3-under par 32, probably the lowest BDM "nine" of the year, and added a 39 for a 71.

Bob Ferrel turned in a 1-over-par 71, and also toured the course in 73 and 78. Other sub-80 Butte des Morts scores were by: Otto Lieber, 78, 76, 78; John Goehler, 78; Pete Talbot, 78; Jim Rudolf, 76, 78, 72; Jeff Martin 73, 78, 76; Bob Martin, 78; 79; Jim McDonald, 76, 76; John Lindberg, 74, 73, 73, 74; Harvey Lhost, 77; Tom Frawley,

Pond's Beats Badger-Zoelk In BRL Play

Pond's outslugged Badger-Zoelk 10-8, in a Babe Ruth League game played Monday at the South Side Athletic Club.

The winners attacked with 12 hits, all singles. Joe Bowers, Paul DeNoble, Jack Schultz and Russ Kamme each had two hits.

Dick Theil was the winning pitcher. He struck out nine, walked seven and allowed four hits.

Joe Aures, the losing pitcher, allowed 12 hits while striking out four.

San Francisco Writers Honor Warren Spahn

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — With a bit of regret the baseball writers of San Francisco Monday night presented Milwaukee pitcher Warren Spahn with a trophy — for pitching a no-hit, no-run game this season against the San Francisco Giants.

Spahn thanked the writers and then added: "I'd like to thank

Rookie's TD Run Highlights Minnesota's First Scrimmage

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP) — Ken Waddell of Tennessee ripped off a 40-yard end run Monday to highlight the Minnesota Vikings' first scrimmage session.

The 5-11, 190 pound halfback drew praise from Coach Norm Van Brocklin for his touchdown spurt.

Waddell's touchdown was one of three scored by the Vikings' rookie contingent. The first was counted by fullback Ray Hayes on a 2-yard off-tackle plant. It was the second day of practice for the new National Football League entry. Two sessions were staged, with the scrimmage coming in the afternoon.

Three more prospects—including two draft choices—decided to quit the squad. Dan Sheehan, defensive tackle from Chattanooga, paced by guard Herb Roedel of the Vikings ninth draft choice. Lant Karpowicz, Detroit halfback, 16th draft choice and Jack Winard, defensive tackle, all quit camp without explanations.

Home Gates in Majors Down 8 Per Cent

NEW YORK (AP) — Only Cincinnati, Detroit, New York and Kansas City are ahead of their 1960 home attendance figures at game and the movie house — a couple of businesses which have been declining since the advent of television—got together Monday night and came up with a successful showing.

Using the facilities of the recently shut-down Vogue Theater, promoter Joe Kellman's boxing card, featuring former welter-weight champion Virgil Akins, drew a paid crowd of 1,003 with a net gate of $2,750.

Before the show started an acting dordionist played old favorites in the plush-carpeted lobby.

Officials Will Try to Keep Demons Afloat

Club Drops 17th Game in 18 Starts Against Lincoln

The often-troubled Three I League got a reassuring word Monday from its 1961 trouble spot—Des Moines.

Although the Demons have the worst won-lost percentage in organized baseball (.254), Des Moines club officials said they would attempt to keep the franchise afloat through the season.

Last year Sioux City and Green Bay were in financial hot water and dropped from the league during the winter.

The last place Demons, who've been particularly timid against Lincoln, lost their 17th in 18 games to the Chiefs Monday night, 4-3.

Lincoln scored all of its runs in the third inning, paced by Fred Loesekam's two-run triple, and added the insult of fanning 16 Des Moines batters. Rookie Bob Harner and Dennis Higgins did the honors.

Marcia Manier and Rita Houston Lose First-Round Matches

Former NEW Champion Beaten on Final Hole to Sheboygan's Marcia Steffen

SHEBOYGAN — Rita Houston, and 14 to go 1-up — only to have Steffen par 15 and 16 to regain the lead. On the dogleg 325-yard 17th, however, Rita got her par to even the match.

Marcia Manier, of Menasha North Shore, also lost to a Sheboyganite when Mrs. Fred (Becca) Nause of Pine Hills won out, 3-2. Mrs. Nause won three of the first four holes and went 3-up at the turn, then won 10 and 11 to take a commanding 5-up lead. While Marcia won 14-15, she couldn't cut the margin enough.

The championship flight was an all-Sheboygan affair now with Ann Riddell of Pine Hills defeating Ellie Mianek of Shorewood, 5-3, and Mary Ann Testwuide of Pine Hills eliminating Kay Anhalt of Manitowish Branch River, 3-1. All three Pine Hills losses are 18 years old.

From there she could only manage a half-swing and her effort to punch onto the green failed, giving her an eventual seven. Steffen played safe and was conceded a 2 1/2-foot putt for a par five to win.

Subsequently, Rita learned that course rules would have permitted her to have moved her ball a club-length away from the steps, thereby possibly giving her a chance for a tie and extra holes had she made the treacherous, but possible shot.

She and Marcia both shot 38 on the front nine, being even at the turn. Steffen won the 11th

Trick-Shooting Ezar Top American Scorer

2 Snap Course Mark In British Open Qualifying Action

BIRKDALE, England (AP) — Gary Player, the 25-year-old South African rated as a favorite in the British Open along with Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., shot a brilliant 67 today in the second qualifying round.

This gave him a two-round 138 and assured him a place in the championship play starting Wednesday. The qualifying rounds are designed to cut the field of 350 down to 120, and the break-off score is expected to be about 150.

BIRKDALE, England (AP) — Wrecking Joe Ezar, a sun-tanned Floridian who can make a golf ball almost sit up and talk, today was the most talked-about American in the British Open championship, even with Arnold Palmer around.

Joe loves to play trick shots for fun—and his special brand of wizardry shot him into position as the top American scorer after the first qualifying round of the championship Monday.

He was even ahead of Palmer, the man the fans turn out by the hundreds to watch whenever he plays.

Ezar, from Miami, had a 70 on the 6,603-yard hillside course over the deciding factor as Kaukauna which both Palmer and his top-downed New London, 8-4, in a rival, Gary Player of South Africa, scored 71. But nobody seriously considers Ezar a threat to the two leading money winners of the American circuit, least of all when Ron Pahl hit a triple, John Lambie got a single to drive in Palmer, Player, Ezar, and Pahl, then stole second and scored about 350 other golfers from 19 countries set out today on the Kaukauna, which remained tied second qualifying round that will for second place in the Central whittle the huge field down to 120 Division, scored one more in the to compete in the play-off stages third, three in the fourth and one of the championship Wednesday, in the sixth Thursday and Friday.

Drysdale Draws Fine, 5-Day Suspension

Giles Makes Ruling After Studying Report on Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers, trailing the Cincinnati Red by five games, will have to get along without Don Drysdale until next Tuesday. The won-lost basis but trails by 3 percentage points.

Miller struck out 10 and permitted only three runners to get as the National League rule against throwing at a hitter.

Warren Giles, president of the National League, handed down the ruling Monday.

Drysdale was ejected from Sunday's game with Cincinnati—won 3-1 after he hit lower Roger Irvine. Jim Caldwell, Frank Robinson, the Reds' right fielder, on the hand in the sixth inning. Dusty Boggess, the plate umpire, had warned Drysdale earlier when he sent Robinson into the dirt to avoid a pitch. The warning carried an automatic $50 fine. When Don hit Robinson, Boggess threw him out of the game scored Yenchu, and Sam Bow-

In cases when, in an umpire's judgment, a pitcher deliberately throws at a batter's person the league president takes over. After reading the umpire's report, talking to the four umpers on the phone and discussing the case with E.J. (Buz) Bavasi, Dodger general manager, Giles announced the ruling.

Bavasi said the loss of Drysdale was a tough blow for the Dodgers at this time when they have been dropping behind the Reds. He claimed the tall right-hander would miss two turns.

Cage Scandal to Be Discussed at Private Meeting

CHATHAM, Mass. (AP) — The National Association of Collegiate Commissioners assembled today for private sessions at which the basketball scandal seems certain to come up for discussion.

In addition to the top men of the 11 major college conferences, Walter Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, and Gen. Bob Neyland, chairman of the NCAA football rules committee, will sit in on the meetings, which run through Friday.

The agenda describes the topics up for discussion as:

One of the biggest crowds of the season saw one of the better games of the season in the Northern League Monday night as St. Cloud stopped Eau Claire 3-2 at St. Cloud.

A crowd of 2,954 looked on, brought out by a shopping center promotion, and fans stared in amazement as the home team got only three hits while Eau Claire bashed 11 off the slants of Harold Gilson.

But homers by Joe Macko and Bill Ott wiped out a 2-0 Eau Claire lead and a walk to Perry Noun, a sacrifice, bobbled ground-er and infield out produced the winning run for St. Cloud in the eighth inning, sending the fans home happy.

In other games, Aberdeen topped Winnipeg 14-2 and Duluth-Superior slapped Grand Forks 7-4.

Sherman's 'Bummers' Were His Source of Food in Long March

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

FORT McALLISTER, Ga. — Cast loose from his supply lines and unable — perhaps unwilling — to communicate with his superior officers at Washington, the problems which faced Gen. Sherman on his historic march through Georgia have been unparalleled in the annals of warfare.

With his army of 62,000 men swelled by the ranks of Confederate prisoners and hordes of Negro followers, Sherman's problems were not exclusively the conduct of the war or simply of his march, there were other problems:

(1) Policy matters must be decided without official direction.

(2) The Union forces' treatment of southerners who, it was hoped, would one day again become citizens of the United States.

(3) Logistics — the problems of transporting, supplying and quartering of his troops.

In the pursuit of what Sherman called "a perfect victory," he earned the calumny of the whole of the South. He was adamant, unwilling to give quarter to the enemy. Many of his directives were heartless and demanding. Of these, he wrote:

"If the people raise a howl against my barbarity and cruelty I will answer that war is war, and not popularity seeking. If they want peace, they and their relatives must stop the war."

At the time of the so-called "glorious march through Georgia" Sherman was 45 years old — and a perfectionist.

On an earlier occasion when he was in charge of the commissary, there was a shortage of three cents in his books. He labored at the task of finding the discrepancy, and one of his subordinates jokingly said:

"Sherman will work himself to near death to find where those three cents have gone. If he doesn't find them, he will formally resign his commission and then he will commit suicide."

Loved His Soldiers

His face was hard, seemingly bitter and he smiled but seldom. Yet, though he sought victory at any cost, he was sometimes a quaint sentimentalist.

During his march to the sea, his conquering army neared the city of Madison, Ga., where lived a lady he had known long ago in times of peace. He addressed to her a flowery letter so naive as to be almost laughable.

The letter recalled to the lady's attention the fact that they had been friends some years ago, and that Sherman had been invited to visit her any time he happened to be passing through.

And, wrote Sherman, he would indeed be passing through Madison. That, from the commanding officer of an invading horde, was a little ironic.

He loved his tough soldiers. When they moved into, and destroyed the city of Columbus, S.C., he generally permitted its destruction. Criticized later, he admitted that no damage would have been done had he kept his soldiers in the ranks. He was asked, then, why he did not do so.

"I would not be so cruel to my soldiers," he answered, "not even to save the whole city."

It must not be thought that feeding an army of 62,000 men, plus prisoners and Negroes, in addition to foraging for thousands of horses, mules and confiscated cattle was an easy job. A certain lack of discipline was required for the distinguished success of the parties assigned to get food for the invaders.

Selected for Boldness

The country through which the troops marched was sparsely settled, but the crops had been good and had been just laid by for the winter.

Obtaining the fruits of the labor of the Georgians was an administrative function. Foraging parties, including hundreds of Wisconsin men, were made up under brigade commanders. The parties consisted of about 59 men, headed by two commissioned officers. "These," said Sherman "were selected for their boldness and enterprise."

At daylight, before the main body of troops would move, the foraging parties would set out on foot. They would extend five or six miles to the flanks of their troops and visit plantations, homes, farms and every place likely to produce food.

At day's end, they would appear on the side of the roads over which the army was traveling, and they would be in possession of incredible amounts of food and forage.

Stolen cattle, horses, mules and wagons were used to contain the goods — hams, sweet potatoes, bacon, chickens, geese, corn, grain, cornmeal, sorghum, molasses and pigs.

Sherman later wrote of the incident which pictures some elements of the foraging:

Sherman's Picture

"... A soldier passed me with a ham (impaled upon) his bayonet, a jug of molasses under his arm and a big piece of honey in his hand from which he was eating ... and catching my eye, he remarked sotto voce and carelessly to a comrade, 'forage liberally on the country,' quoting from my general orders."

As the foraging parties halted on the road by which the troops would pass, they awaited the food wagons into which most of the supplies would be placed.

It was the duty of each division and brigade commander to fill those wagons with great speed because each wagon was required to keep "closed up" in the ranks.

It would be possible for a wagon to be pulled to the roadside and be filled leisurely there, but commanders disliked to have their commands divided. They preferred pulling into bivouac with their men all together. Thus, they became ingenious and industrious at loading the wagons with never a halt, and holding their places in the column.

'Oh, You Thief'

Great corn-cribs built of logs were raised a few feet and the wagons would ride under them. A detail of soldiers were placed in the cribs where they lay on their backs, and with their feet working like pistons, they would literally kick out a wagon load of corn in a matter of a few minutes.

As the main columns passed the waiting foragers, there would be much good natured badinage and laughter. "Oh, you thief!" was a frequent, glad cry to a forager who was usually proud of his skill in obtaining edibles.

In truth, there have been few armies better trained by experience in the art of pillage and robbery.

The foragers early learned that the Negroes, former slaves, were prime informers. Hidden food or valuables were often pointed out by the slaves, but the foragers had their own skills, too.

They would walk about a plantation jabbing into the ground their bayonets or ramrods, probing for a sound or touch that was different from that of the earth.

A freshly planted flower bed was certain to be dug up, and, the foragers learned that most valuables were hidden along and within the main paths of the plantations. Many buried their treasures in local cemeteries in the belief that Sherman's "bummers" would assume soft places were graves of the newly dead. But they were not so easily deceived. Few hiding places passed their ramrod tests.

Another device was learned through experience. As they roamed a plantation, they would require a member of the household to remain in view. When they moved from this place to that, they would watch for a reaction. When it came, they would dig — often successfully.

Best Kind of Duty

The soldiers loved the assignment to a foraging party — partly in the fun of it and partly because they often enriched themselves by taking jewels and other family treasures — although this was forbidden by Sherman.

Strangely enough, some of these objects, stolen a century

Suspended Sentences Given French Rebels

PARIS (AP) — Eleven Foreign Legion officers who participated in last April's unsuccessful military revolt in Algeria received suspended sentences ranging from one to two years from a special military tribunal.

They were members of the now-defunct first Foreign Legion parachute regiment that seized Algiers last April 22 to install the insurgent junta of ex-Gen. Maurice Challe.

ago, are being returned to the state of Georgia by descendants. Recently, for example, the great-grandson of an Ohio soldier returned to the Georgia Department of Archives, a valuable cup stolen from the home of a prominent citizen.

Thus, the invading army of Gen. Sherman fed itself all the way from Atlanta to Savannah, then up through the Carolinas.

But when Sherman's troops pulled up near Fort McAllister, the foraging parties had fewer sources of supply. They were largely out of the farm country and most of the supplies were within the stronghold of nearby Savannah.

'In a Minute'

On a hilltop, Sherman and some of his staff climbed to the top of a shed. From there, at nearly sunset, Gen. Hazen was signaled thus: "You must carry the fort by assault tonight, if possible."

And, almost at that moment a ship was sighted on the Ossa Bay Sound—a Union ship. It meant that Sherman's march to Savannah was completed and that contact with the Federal Navy was made.

The ship wigwagged a question: "Who are you?"

The answer from the rooftop: "Gen. Sherman."

A question: "Is Fort McAllister taken?"

The answer: "Not yet, but it will be in a minute."

And it was. Loss to the union: 92 men. Loss to the garrison inside: 250.

Use All Kinds of Seeds in Making Indian Bead String

BY CAPPY DICK

This is the time of year to make a string of Indian beads. Use seeds, pods, corks and balls of crepe paper.

Melon seeds, squash seeds, burrs, wisteria pods and even maple seeds with their wings (Figure 2) are all good Indian beads. If you live where there are sweetgum trees, you will be able to find some brown, prickly balls that dropped to the ground during spring. These can be strung as in Figure 1. Do the stringing with a darning needle.

If you cannot find enough seed pods to make a necklace, make the beads out of pieces of cork and small balls of crepe paper strung together as in Figure 2.

Use corks of medium size and slice them in half from end to end. With poster paints draw an Indian design on the round side of each piece as the girl is doing in Figure 3.

The crepe paper beads to be strung between the corks are easily made. Simply tear off a small piece of bright-colored crepe paper—red, for example—and dip it into flour-and-water paste. Roll it into a small, tight ball. Make a good supply of these beads and let them partly dry before you string them. They should not be allowed to harden before stringing, or it will be impossible to pass a needle through them.

String the corks and crepe paper balls on two threads with a needle attached to each. String that the beads are on two threads three crepe paper heads between each pair of cork beads. The fact will cause the necklace to rest flat when it is worn.

If the beads are made of seed pods, these, too, should be colored with poster paints to make the necklace bright.

BY JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Gentlemen may prefer blondes but gentlemen designers on the whole favor tall raven-haired females to enhance the exotic hues and classic lines of their winter fashions. The more than 200 members of the nation's fashion press (at least half of whom are light-tressed ladies) heard the bad news Monday at an early session of New York Couture Group.

Blondes Fading
As a panacea, a cosmetics company announced a new product soon to be marketed which will fashionably temporarily darken crowning glories, and add brown highlights to already black tresses. Then, as if to drive home the point, stylists Paul Parnes, Marquise, and Harvey Berin spent the afternoon lining the runway with models in dull greens, deep grape and wine, burnt orange, mustard yellows, and blue red hues, which are definitely more flattering to brunettes.

Furs Tickle Knees
Fur hemlines tickled the knees of models displaying the classic conservative dress and suit collection of Paul Parnes. His dresses in quiet checks and plaids were bias cut, often sewn together diagonally. Waistlines were wrapped, or subtly bloused. Mole skin, dyed navy blue, was worked into a finger-tip length jacket by Paul Parnes which fits into the fur story from Paris heard by women reporters at a noon session.

Mink, bleached, and cut into diminutive pelts and sewn together again like a parquet floor, made a comeback.

Flared Skirts
Marquise suits featured finger-tip length jackets and skirts that flared out like trumpets from a closed hip fit. His almost weightless wool dresses in so-called stained glass colors featured button-on collars and wide belts.

Crisp silhouettes with ever so gently flared skirts, plenty of waistline emphasis and back button interest was largely Harvey Berin's fashion story for day. But for night his costumes were soft often beaded combinations of wool and lace, chiffon and cashmere, or even velvet and moire.

Dazzling Parade
In the early morning couture group sessions Ceil Chapman surprised writers with a glowing sequined man-tailored tuxedo evening suit and a dazzling parade of swinging fringed dresses.

George Carmel introduced coats and suits carefully shaped but not wallpapered to the body.

And Rosalie Macrini, a newcomer among the 33 designer-manufacturer members who make up the couture group, tickled everyone's fancy with chiffon dresses bordered with ostrich feathers.

An Otherwise Subdued moss green coat flashes a leopard lining in this costume by Marquise. The tailored wool coat matches a short sleeved dress, tucked softly at the waistline.

Engagement Of Daughter Announced

Mr. and Mrs. John Krueger, Kenosha, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Alice, to Wayne P. Everts. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Everts, route 3, New London.

Miss Krueger, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin School of Pharmacy is employed at Milwaukee General Hospital. Her fiancé was graduated from New London Washington High School and the state university. He is employed in the research and development department of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., Chicago.

An Aug. 25 wedding is planned.

Here's a list of what she must consume daily — the types of foods and calorie totals:

Five and one-half slices enriched bread or equivalent of any part in cereal — 357 calories; six glasses whole milk (may be taken in soup and on foods, or eaten in part as cheese) — 996c.; two eggs — 150c.; five pats of butter (three tablespoons) — 300c.; one tablespoon salad or cooking oils — 100c.; four portions meat, fish or fowl — app. 500c.; one serving each, fruit juice and raw fruit — app. 150c.; one serving each cooked green leafy and yellow vegetable — app. 67c.; one potato or other starchy vegetable, like rice — 100c.; plain desserts and snacks — 400c. Total — 3200c.

Now here's how a would-be-gainer can expand her capacity for food, and that she must: Eat a little more each day until the 3200 calorie plateau is reached. Before breakfast, breathe deeply at an open window. Take a leisurely walk during the day. When possible, eat nap before dinner. Cultivate a calm approach, for haste and nerves take off weight quicker than food can put it on.

False Safety Play May Lose Bid

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

It's sometimes a good idea to draw a round or two of trumps before proceeding with your main play for the contract. In some cases, however, this type of precaution lands you smack in the middle of the soup.

West opened the king of clubs, and South won with the ace. Since there was no way to make use of dummy's top spades, South had to find a way to avoid the loss of two diamonds. There were two good ways to do so, but South had the bad luck to think of a third way.

Declarer led out one high trump as a "safety" measure, and then led out three rounds of diamonds. East returned a trump and waited for his second diamond trick.

South's safety play had cost him the contract.

Better Plans

There are two better ways to play the hand, and in this case either would bring the slam contract home.

The simple method is to lead out three rounds of diamonds immediately. Any plan will work if the six missing diamonds are divided 3-3. This method will work if the diamonds are 4-2, provided that the player with four diamonds has the six of hearts. In this case South can ruff his fourth diamond with dummy's five of hearts.

Another method is to lead a low diamond at the second trick. If East returns a trump, South proceeds with the diamonds. If East returns a trump, South proceeds with the diamonds. If East returns anything else, South draws one round of trumps himself.

South makes the slam if the opponent with four diamonds started with two or three trumps. That opponent will have to follow suit while South ruffs out his last diamond, and the other opponent will be unable to ruff.

Daily Question
Partner opens with two no trump, and the next player passes. You hold S 9 8 5, H 6 3, D Q J 10 6, C 10 8 4 2. What do you say?

Answer: Pass. The opening bid of two no trump is highly invitational, but not forcing. You need 4 points or a very long suit to respond.

Best man was Mike Oleszczak, Greenleaf, and groomsmen were William Broeren Jr., brother of the bridegroom, and Paul Wiegert, Wrightstown. Lloyd Meulemans and George Broeren, brother of the bridegroom, shared ushering duties.

Van Abel's Restaurant in Hollandtown was the setting for the dinner, supper, reception and dance, after which the newlyweds left for Niagara Falls. They will reside at 911 Kenneth Ave., Kaukauna.

The bride is a graduate of Kaukauna High School and works at Home Mutual Insurance Co. Her husband, an alumnus of Wrightstown High School, works at Thimble Pulp and Paper Co.

Planning a spring wedding are Miss Mary Pat Vander Velden and Eugene Gloudemans. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Cleborne Vander Velden, 135 S. Sidney St., Kimberly, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gloudemans, 620 W. McKinley Ave., Little Chute.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Kimberly High School and is employed at Appleton Coated Paper Supply Co.

Spring Rites Planned by Engaged Pair

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Van Deraa, 1107 Depot St., Little Chute, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Peggy, to William R. Steinberg. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. John H. Steinberg, 1513 W. Franklin St., Appleton.

Miss Van Deraa, a graduate of St. John Catholic High School, Little Chute, is a secretary for Dr. R. F. Scherzinger. Her fiancé graduated from Appleton High School and is with Northwest Supply Company, Inc.

A spring wedding is planned.

Derber Family Meets for 16th Annual Reunion

About 90 members of the Derber family attended the group's 16th annual reunion Sunday at the home of the Fred Bubolz family.

Reporters for the coming year will be Delmer Tiel, Fond du Lac; Mrs. Vernon Thoma, New London; and Mrs. Gaylord Derber, Appleton.

The oldest couple present was Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Derber, Oshkosh. The youngest child was Wendy Lou Pohlman, Sugar Bush. Members also attended from Neenah, Appleton, Van Dyne and Omro.

Next year's event will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brooks, route 2, Omro.

Family Holds Annual Reunion

One hundred family members attended the 23rd annual Zehner reunion Sunday at Doty Park in Neenah.

Lester A. Balliet, Appleton, was reelected president. Other officers are Mrs. Lydia Henry, Winneconne, vice president; Mrs. Orville Emmons, Dale, secretary; and Lester Zehner, Larsen, treasurer. Miss Irene Evenson, Larsen, is historian.

Miss Pearl Zehner, New London, who is 89-years-old, was the oldest member present. The youngest was Veronica Friemark, Dale.

Mr. and Mrs. William Heuer, Livingston, Calif., came the greatest distance. Next year's reunion will be held on the second Sunday in July.

A set of candid photographs for my daughter's wedding will cost $150 and formal portraits will amount to $100. We will order both sets, but my daughter insists that we are supposed to get two more sets to give to her and her bridegroom and still another two sets for the bridegroom's parents. That would amount to $750 just for photographs! Surely we don't have to fork up such an amount and I can't believe that such a rule exists. Please settle this for it doesn't make sense.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN DERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Jealousy in the older child over a new baby can often be curbed if you ask the older children's advice from time to time. For example: "What color sweater shall we put on baby today?" etc. Another good green-eyed antidote: get grandmothers, godmothers and others to focus attention on the older children, rather than the new baby. Be sure, too, how being the center of attention will give a feeling of self-importance to a toddler.

Solid talk. As you know, it won't be long before the new bundle of joy will be on solid food — most likely cereal at the start. Gerber Cereal Quads are ideal for this important introduction. Each package contains four small-size boxes of Rice Cereal, Oatmeal, Mixed Cereal and High Protein Cereal — for easy introduction of cereal variety.

Gerber Cereals are delicate but distinctive, the texture smooth and easy to swallow. When mixed with milk or formula they stir to perfection in a jiffy, and they're enriched with iron and B-vitamins for good solid nourishment.

Lesson in love for little girls. If you've a girl toddler who resents the baby, why not get her a lacyette set for her doll. Then she can dress, bathe and feed her own baby while you tend to the wee one. And it will occupy her while your attention is focused on the baby. As she loves her doll, so she will come to love sister or brother.

Vitamin C comes early in the modern baby's menu. Gerber Strained Orange Juice, Apple Juice or Orange-Apple make excellent vitamin-C carriers for young babies. Mildly sweet, never tart, they're rich in the vitamin that means sound gums and body tissues. When baby gets a bit older, he will enjoy Gerber Strained Orange-Pineapple and Pineapple-Grapefruit. Your Problems

Small Children on Telephone Impose on Adult's Patience

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My gripe is not an important one but it must irritate a great many others. I wish you'd print this.

I'm a young mother with small children—two, three and four years old. I love young children, but not on the telephone. It irks me when my friends say "Just a minute, Gary wants to talk to you." Then I have to sit there for several minutes trying to understand what he is jabbering about. When Gary gets through, she puts Susie on. And, of course, Sharon has to have her turn or she has a tantrum.

My children talk on the phone to only one person—their grandmother. I know she wants to talk to them because she asks. But please, Ann, you tell these mothers that a telephone is not a toy and that it is a terrible imposition to inflict their youngsters on adults who are too polite to refuse to talk to them. Is there a way out?—Jabber Nuts

Dear J. Nuts: Yes, there is a way out but it takes so much brass that I don't know anyone who would employ it. Here is a sentence which will put an end to all telephone chats with small fry. (I warn you that it will probably terminate in the adult friendship as well).

"I am unable to understand your children when they talk on the 'phone, so if you don't mind, I will wait until I can talk to them in person."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I live in a rather small town. Someone started an ugly rumor about me which persists in spite of my repeated denials. The tongues have been wagging for almost two years now and all my efforts to trace the origin of the gossip have failed. Whenever I ask, "Where did you hear it?" I get vague answers. Shall I take this case to a lawyer? I am unable to ignore it, so please don't give me any such foolish advice as that. Thank you.—Near Miami

Dear Near: No lawyer would take your "case" because you have no case. Since you have instructed me not to advise you to ignore it, I won't. But I will tell you what you are accomplishing when you insist on trying to track down the origin. You manage to keep the rumor alive.

The best defense against gossip is to ignore it. When you cease to show interest in it, others may too.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: These career girls who would rather do anything downtown than stay at home must be balmy. I've had it both ways and to my mind house-

Our Children

Sensitive Child Can't Always Control Emotion

BY ANGELO PATRI

Henny is an only child. He behaves very well in the house, but the moment he meets other children, or an adult, he seems to lose control of himself and talks rudely, loudly, and often impudently. He embarrasses his mother and father so that they dread taking him out of the house. The friends of the family dislike having the child about and — with reason — plainly indicate their dislike for him.

One afternoon as he walked with his mother, an old family friend greeted them. Henny grinned and said, "You're cuckoo," and jiggled up and down as if in derision. The lady colored, made some trifling remark and went on her way. "Why did you say such a thing, Henny? Why do you behave like this and make people hate you? Home you go and there you will stay until you learn how to behave. I've never been so disgraced in my life."

Sensitive Boy

It is not Henny's fault altogether and he should not be blamed. To start with, he is a very self-conscious child, sensitive to every contact with people and with too little control of his impulses. He needs the care of a children's specialist who will teach him, treat him, and advise his parents about his care.

But most of all, he needs the companionship of other children. He is an only child, living among adults, in an adult world; the pressure of the people and their ways is severe on his oversensitive nervous organization. Meeting other children excites him and he has not sufficient control over his emotions. In his effort to be one of them he shows off, acts silly and so loses what he is trying to get: friendship with other children.

To supplement the work of the specialist, it would be well for Henny's mother to bring another child into the house to play with him daily and, if at all possible to enter him into a nursery school. The trained teacher there will know how to handle him and to help him overcome some of his self-consciousness and establish a degree of self-control.

It is bad enough to be an only child when no such handicap as a hair-trigger nervous system is present, but the combination is a severe affliction, a difficult problem for parent and child. The adult who meets such a child should not resent his brashness but sympathize with his predicament. With the right treatment he will overcome most of the difficulty.

Mahogany Will Fade In Sunlight

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

SUN FADES MAHOGANY

Q: I am planning on installing indoor shutters in a west window. They have a mahogany finish and I am concerned about the effect the sun will have on this finish where it is exposed to the afternoon sun. What can be done to help preserve this finish?

A: Resign yourself to refinishing the shutters every now and then. Although I have heard claims to the contrary, I have yet to see the finish that won't eventually fade under steady exposure to the sun.

COPPER WATER PIPING

Q: Is copper tubing okay to use for water supply within a house? This is, of course, excluding waste lines. — Washington, D.C.

A: Certainly this can be used.

But remember the well-known destructive reaction if copper is directly contacting any fitting containing zinc; this must be avoided.

"FOLDING RAILROAD"

Q: Is there any way to combine a ping pong table and a table used for toy trains? Presently, the train tracks are on a rigid table, nine by five feet. This takes a lot of space in the recreation room for something that is used very little.

A: I suggest relocating the railroad on a removable plywood top which can be stood against a wall when not in use (with due safeguards to protect accidental bumping into slender projections, siding firmly and are not loosen-peeling has occurred and repaint.

Girl 'Thrilled' at Peace Corps Job

Green Bay Recruit First From Northeastern Wisconsin

Post-Crescent News Service
GREEN BAY — "Thrilled and anxious" was the feeling of Sharon Pulchin when notified that she had passed the initial step to becoming the first Peace Corps recruit from the Green Bay and Northeastern Wisconsin area.
Miss Pulchin, a slim, sandy-haired 20-year-old, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pulchin, Green Bay. She has a degree in dental hygiene.
R. Sargent Shriver, Peace Corps director, notified Miss Pulchin Friday night that she is to report to Notre Dame University July 20. At South Bend Miss Pulchin will compete with 40 other youthful Peace Corps nominees for a year and a half assignment in Chile.
The Peace Corps representatives scheduled for duty in Chile will be the third group to go overseas under the program. The first two were geologists who went to Tanzania, followed by groups to Colombia and the Philippine Islands.
"It was a rough test," Miss Pulchin said, referring to the five-hour Peace Corps exam taken day after day from May 29 at the Green Bay Post Office. She was committed to the Peace Corps when she failed to raise verbal skills, American history, and civics, modern language, health science and personality.
They even wanted to know if I climbed trees or diapered a baby," she added with a chuckle.
At Notre Dame, Miss Pulchin will be tested in interview and trained. She will study the five-hour physical exam and physical conditioning.
The excursion of several of the group to Chile this October will be sponsored by the Peace Corps in conjunction with the Indiana State Conference of Higher Education.
The small compensation she will receive for her efforts is of little importance to Miss Pulchin. "This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to be of service to the United States and to those less fortunate than us," Miss Pulchin said.
Peace Corps representatives will be paid a "subsistence" wage, which means they will live on the level of the people they aid. In addition, the Corps will put aside $75 a month which will be received by members upon their return to this country.

Manawa Man Held on Charges Of Stealing Cows

WAUPACA — William P. Alexander, 38, route 2, Manawa, was bound over to Circuit Court Monday for charges of May 29 at the Green Bay Post Office. He was committed to the jail. Miss Pulchin was tested on verbal skills, American history, and civics, modern language, health science and personality.

Warren Basler, Oshkosh Charter Operator, To Purchase Executive Airways, Inc.

OSHKOSH — Arrangements to purchase Executive Airways, Inc. are being made by Basler Flight Service the County Board Aviation Committee was told Monday night.
Executive Airways, Inc. was formed recently by William G. Brennan operator of the Hotel Atherton restaurant and cocktail lounge and O. M. Mulcahy, Chicago, to fly company executives on a contract basis anywhere in the country.
Brennan appeared in June before the Aviation Committee and indicated he would like permission to erect a $29,000 hangar at the airport and obtain space in the terminal building so he could base his operations at the Winnebago County airport although some of the planes to be acquired would be located at other airports in the state.
The committee then replied it would have to check into the contract with Warren Basler, operator of Basler Flight Service, who has the contract to be the operator at the airport. The committee did not know if the contract terms would permit a second charter service operator at the airport.
Since then the committee was advised, Basler has begun arrangements to purchase Executive Airways, Inc., and will provide the planes and pilots needed while Brennan and Mulcahy will handle promotion of the service and be paid a commission for the business they secure.
Basler met later in the evening with the committee to discuss various maintenance projects at the hangars and area he now rents from the county at the airport and also suggested the possible future need for an additional large hangar at the airport.
The committee replied it had to prepare a list of possible future projects for development at the airport to submit to the state and possibly could include the hangar as one of these future projects for state and federal aid.

TVA Directors Announce Cut in Electric Rates

WASHINGTON (AP)—Directors of the Tennessee Valley Authority announced at a White House ceremony today the agency has approved a new, lower electric power rate for home, farm and commercial users.
The lower rate already has been put in effect by two cooperatives which sell TVA power. It offers savings of 8 per cent or more.
The new rate was named the "Norris centennial rate" in honor of the late Sen. George W. Norris, R-Nebr. Today was the 100th anniversary of his birth.
TVA's board of directors and more than 30 members of Congress from the TVA area called on President Kennedy in observance of the centennial celebration being held here in Nebraska and in the TVA area.
The TVA serves major areas in Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Kentucky, and smaller areas of North Carolina, Virginia and Georgia.

Board of Education In Appleton Re-Elects Four Officers

Appleton Board of Education unanimously re-elected its four officers Monday.
They are Mrs. Myrl N. Davis, president; Franklin L. Nebs, vice president; Victor Sumnicht, secretary, and Earl W. Harder, assistant secretary.
The board canceled its July 24 meeting. The next meeting will be Aug. 14.

Businessmen Show Hostility to Kennedy

BY DAVID LAWRENCE — Fluctuations in the stock market are not the only sign of apprehension in the business world. Lately there have been many private expressions among businessmen to the effect that, if President Kennedy realized the hostility and antagonism which his lieutenants are stirring up in the business world, he would be amazed. The administration's behavior in virtually ostracizing the business advisory council, which has served the U.S. Department of Commerce for many years, is a case in point.

Lawrence

Perhaps the most interesting viewpoint being expressed by businessmen appeared in a memorandum privately circulated recently in different parts of the country by a trained observer. It was given in the form of advice to investors with respect to the business outlook, and was not intended in any way for publication. But excerpts from it did get into print, and here are some of them:

"I would like to call to your attention a series of developments in the political area which gives me cause for great concern in respect to the intermediate-term outlook for business, and particularly for the vitality of this recovery.

Concerned With Fringes
"This development is the apparent antagonistic attitude of certain of those in the administration in Washington toward business — particularly large corporate business. My concern is not based on specific or overt statements or actions of the President himself, but rather is based on developments at the fringes of the administration.

"Appointments to the Federal Power Commission and to the Interior Department to date have included a number of men with demonstrable bias in favor of public-power development. The regulated service industries — electricity, gas, communications and transportation — have made a major contribution to the economy over a period of many years.

"Developing administration attitudes toward business as expressed in a number of perhaps minor but increasingly frequent actions deserve careful watching and, in fact, careful present appraisal.

Defends AT & T
"Among these are the point of view expressed by Lee Loewinger, new head of the antitrust division of the Department of Justice who was very critical of the size of American Telephone & Telegraph and made the positive assertion that the public service had suffered as a result of the company's size and activities. Here perhaps is the best technical service and best progress of any industry in the country.

"In short, I can see a trend of attitude and thinking and action on the fringes of this administration — perhaps already reaching when unemployed will not — if well into it or perhaps ultimately reaching well into it — that can be highly disturbing to the American economy and to this business recovery and the ability of future business levels to handle the unemployment problem. "It seems to me that this is the result of either of two things: discipline of regular employment."

"1. There is no understanding on the part of many people around the administration as to what makes the economy tick.

"2. There is a determined effort on the part of some to make it necessary for the government ultimately to occupy and take over a far larger segment of responsibility — a trend toward a more socialistic state."

Optimism and Concern

This sums up the attitude also of many other Washington observers concerned with the economic outlook. Some of the same ideas are being expressed in congressional circles, although for many weeks the tone of nearly all public statements has been optimistic, and it has been insisted that an economic recovery is under way.

Regurgitation Found Cause Of Heartburn

CHICAGO — Heartburn is not associated with pressure changes in the stomach or esophagus. It is caused by the regurgitation of stomach contents into the esophagus.

These conclusions were drawn from one of the few studies made on patients while they were experiencing intermittent heartburn attacks. The study was reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The subjects were 12 men ranging in age from 26 to 66. All of the patients consistently complained of heartburn during regurgitation, the report said, and the heartburn disappeared whenever the reflux stopped. No pressure changes could be correlated with the regurgitation. Although stomach acids were regurgitated in the study, the report said, it was assumed that an not based on specific or overt statements or actions of the President himself, but rather is based on developments at the fringes of the administration.

Lazy Fathers Make Money Not Working

BY EDDY GILMORE LONDON (AP)— Britain's National Assistance Board reports that fathers who prefer loafing to working are becoming an official problem.

Its report explained that most are fathers of large families who had low-paying jobs. By remaining unemployed, they can collect almost as much money in National Assistance as they could be working at a full time job.

Bad Example

"Not only does the size of his family mean that provision for its maintenance is a heavy burden on the community," said the report, "but the fact that a number of young children are growing up to regard idleness as a normal state of affairs cannot but cause concern."

"Where a man's earning capacity is low, his financial position when unemployed will not — if he has several children — be very different from that when he is at work.

"If of an idle disposition, the few extra shillings which employment offers may not outweigh the disadvantages, as he sees it, of giving up a life of comparative freedom for the discipline of regular employment."

The report said withdrawal of the man's allowance might seem more than one creditor.

These are among findings reported in a 310-page book, "Survey of Consumer Finances," prepared by economists of the University of Michigan's Survey Research Center. Material for the book was gathered from interviews conducted largely in 1959.

Debt Owed By Many Americans

Debt in one form or another is owed by 68 per cent of American households, and many have last three years. However, the number of families owing more than $1,000 on the instalment plan has doubled to 14 percent from seven per cent since 1955.

More than one-third of those owing instalment debt had liquid assets sufficient to pay off all their instalment debt. But the authors note people who buy on cash "see instalment buying as a means of getting better service or better price, feel monthly payments are a means of self-discipline, or want to save their cash for a 'rainy day' or some other purpose."

Revolt Threatens in State as Assessors Lend Helping Hand

But State Official Points to Law Which Makes Water Craft Taxable

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Because the chief of property tax supervision in the state tax department has offered a helping hand to local tax assessors in the assessment of pleasure boats for property tax purposes, there are threats of taxpayer revolts in dozens of Wisconsin localities.

Hundreds of Wisconsin boat owners who are not bothered by their local assessors in past years are apparently learning for the first time that their vessels are liable for assessment under personal property tax laws.

Many of them are resentful, moreover, that the state tax department should be taking their names from the boat licensing lists of the state conservation department and transmitting them to the municipal assessors.

Accuracy in the distribution of the property tax load is one of the goals of the state tax supervision program, he explained, and the proper assessment of all categories of property is also necessary for the establishment of the equalized tax data upon which the distribution of county and state taxes among local municipalities rests.

taxable. It lists them specifically. Until the legislature acts to change that law, it is the duty of tax officers to assess them," he said, acknowledging that the availability of the licensing lists has brought a storm of objections from throughout the state.

Licensing Law
Boating organizations generally supported the state licensing law for boats two years ago, but evidently without a thought to the fact that it would provide a ready-made dunning instrument for the local tax assessor. Recognizing the fact belatedly, the boating groups are now peppering the legislature with appeals for an exemption of boats, now the only hobby item subject, to taxation, from the personal property tax rolls.

The legislature has shown no disposition to respond. The League of Wisconsin Municipalities and other guardians of the local tax base are vigilantly watching the exemption bill, ready to resist it to the utmost should it leave the senate committee where it has reposed without action for months.

There are nearly 200,000 pleasure boats now licensed. The last available figures on their assessed value is slightly more than $8,000,000.

But state tax men guess that only about half of the boats in the state have reached the personal property tax rolls in the past, when the assessor had no sure means of locating or identifying them. On that basis, a full assessment might ultimately produce more than $3,000,000 a year in local government tax revenues and a significant source of municipal support in those sections adjacent to recreational waters where boat ownership is common.

Some local assessors have complained that the state boat license lists reached them too late this year for inclusion on the personal property tax roll, which technically is based on a May 1 assessment. But Gillette notes that the tax roll can be amended until the local board of tax review adjourns finally. Thus in most communities the boat ownership lists that are now being received, or were received during the last few weeks, could be used for boat assessments since most of the local review boards have not yet finished their work, in his view.

Six GOP Senators Control Fate of Republican Sales Tax 'Package'

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON—Six Republican state senators now control the fate of the Republican sales tax and tax revision package.

Three of them are among the original senate "mavericks." Al. J. Busby of West Allis, Chester Dempsey of Hartland, and J. E. Leverich of Sparta. Three are men who have been fairly reliable regulars, but who are quite obviously enjoying the publicity and attention their reservations on the controversial revenue measure are harvesting. They are Gerald Lorge of Bear Creek, Reuben La Fave of Oconto, and Peter Carr of Oconto.

But their stated reasons are varied.

Lorge and Carr are critical of the Republicans' concession to Gov. Nelson in the form of the income tax withholding feature of the sales tax bill. Their colleagues hope they will relent in the end, but to date they have given no indication that they intend to do so.

Busby and Leverich are all-out opponents of the idea of the sales tax in any form, and can be relied upon to vote with the Democratic minority on every motion involving that central feature of the GOP tax design.

Dempsey is opposed to any tax increase, he has said repeatedly, although he has not explained what he would do about the big state budget deficit if his view should prevail.

LaFave reportedly is miffed about the casual way the Republican leadership early this year brushed off his proposal for a sales tax referendum in the spring election.

There are also some important hold-outs on the sales tax and other features of the GOP leadership tax revision measure in the assembly, but it is generally expected that if the senate approves the measure, the assembly will swing into line.

The big question is how to persuade two of the six dissenters in the senate, and preferably three, to provide the bare majority required in the upper house. A 17 vote total for the package would eliminate the need for Lt. Gov. Warren P. Knowles to cast a vote, a situation that he would welcome.

The reports occasionally heard in capital political circles that Democratic Chairman Patrick J. Lucey may some day seek an elective office probably have some basis of fact.

Lucey's friends say that he would like to be governor some day, although his blue-print is an extremely flexible one. The chances are that his decision to turn up before the Republican controlled finance committee last week to bait the republicans on tax questions is related to official has no plans for extended service in the Wisconsin capitol. A realist, Gronouski knows that he would be quickly replaced if a Republican is elected to the governorship.

Republican organization workers have been heard expressing the hope that the choice of Mrs. Talbot Peterson of Appleton as a vice chairman of the state party committee will smooth out any ruffled feelings that may remain from the recent contest for the governor's conservation lands. Eighth district party chairman, Talbot Peterson had announced for the office, and then lost the election to Colburn Cherney of Green Bay, who had been a member of the state committee as the head of the county chairman's group.

Appleton DAV Officers Named

Cletus Helf, Little Chute, was elected commander of the reactivated Appleton Chapter of the Disabled American Veterans at a meeting Saturday night.

Other officers named were John F. Wallen, senior vice commander; Gordon Wilson, senior commander; Oscar Kokke, adjutant; John Nye, chaplain, and Barney Gambsky, treasurer. Kokke is from Kimberly, the remaining officers from Appleton.

Plans were made for a drive to increase membership. Disabled veterans from Kaukauna, Kimberly, Little Chute, Combined Locks, Appleton and rural areas are eligible to join. Meetings are held the third Thursday of each month at the Appleton VFW hall.

Delegates to the state convention at Madison July 14 to 16, are Helf, Gramsky and Nye. Other officers will be appointed by the commander.

Two Persons Suffer Minor Injuries in Two-Car Accident

LITTLE CHUTE — Two persons got minor injuries in a 2-car accident at U. S. 41 and Madison Street about 7:15 p. m. Sunday, according to village police.

Sherubine Szymanski, 36, route 3, Pulaski, got a bump on the head and cut right arm and Frank Szymanski, 72, route 3, Pulaski, received a bump on the head. Both were passengers in a car driven by Walter E. Holewinski, 45, route 3, Pulaski.

Police said Holewinski was east-bound on U. S. 41 when a car driven by Adrian P. Van Veghel, 25, route 4, Appleton, northbound on Madison Street, struck the side of the Holewinski car. Van Veghel told police that he applied his brakes but only one wheel held, and he skidded sideways onto the highway.

Iron Removal For City Wells Costs $76,937

Kaukauna Utility Awards Bids for Project This Year

KAUKAUNA — Bids totaling $76,937 for iron removal equipment on four city wells were awarded by the utility commission, Norbert Rhinerson, utility manager, announced.

When added, all five city wells will have iron removal units in operation. The addition is expected to remove much of the hardness from the water and help prevent iron deposits in water lines.

Work is to start this month and should be completed by early fall, said Rhinerson. The bids received were about $500 below the estimated cost of the project prepared by Jerry Donohue Engineering, consulting engineers, in 1958.

Bid Categories
General contractor is A. H. Nimmer, Kaukauna, with a bid of $18,990. Iron removal equipment will be supplied by Layne-Northwest, Milwaukee, for $32,233; installation of piping and heating is by Azco Inc., Appleton, $24,447, and electrical work is by Mayr Electric, Sheboygan, $1,267.

The equipment and building will be constructed on utility water station property on Elm Street. Iron removal equipment was installed a few years ago at the newest well on DeLanglade Street.

Consolidation Hearing Set In Greenville

7 School Districts To Discuss Petition Aimed at Unification

GREENVILLE—A public hearing will be held at 8:30 p.m. today at South Greenville Grange Hall on a petition for consolidation of seven elementary school districts in the Town of Greenville.

The petition calls for formation of one common school district of the territory now divided into Cedar Grove, Pleasant Corners, Sunnyslope, Sunnyside, Wide Awake, Happy Valley and Elm Tree districts.

Parts of the Towns of Grand Chute, Hortonville, Clayton and Dale are involved in the proposed reorganization, so the five town boards will act on the petition. A majority of each board must approve the petition if it is to be granted.

All seven districts operate one-room schools. They have a total equalized valuation of $6,948,600. This includes $698,300 in Cedar Grove; $1,969,900 in Pleasant Corners; $704,400 in Sunnyside; $1,597,200 in Wide Awake; $770,600 in Happy Valley, and $1,208,200 in Elm Tree.

Police Called To Help Catch Patient in Lake

OSHKOSH — A Winnebago State Hospital patient who decided to take a swim in Lake Winnebago Monday afternoon was returned to shore with the help of three hospital aides, three members of the sheriff's department and an Oshkosh police boat.

One of the aides said he was walking a group of patients along the lake shore about 2 p.m. Monday when one of the patients departed and ran into the lake and started to swim too far out for safety.

Two hospital aides went out in a sailboat and another in a rowboat but were unable to get the patient into either of the boats. County police and two Conservation Department employees went out in the Conservation Department boat. The Oshkosh police boat also went out.

The conservation boat that brought back the patient towed the sailboat to shore.

Menasha Board Revises Policy on School Rentals

MENASHA — Policies on the use of public school buildings for other than school programs were revised Monday by the board of education. Most changes involved higher fees to cover higher maintenance costs.

The board ruled that facilities are available to responsible individuals or organizations for non-religious purposes. Political meetings and profit-making events would be allowed.

Applications must be in writing to the board of education. Supt. M. J. Gegan may act in most cases.

Organizations taking collections or charging admission must pay higher rates, but Band Mothers, PTA groups and others raising funds for school activities are not included.

No school facilities are available for public dances. School dances are allowed.

Menasha School Plans Addition

MENASHA — Permission to build a two-story classroom addition to the west of Menasha vocational school's woodworking shop was granted Monday by the board of education. Representatives of the board of vocational and adult education showed a preliminary floor plan of the proposed 38 by 73-foot wing.

H. L. Sherman, vocational director, explained the wing and equipment would be financed out of vocational funds.

One major aim is to provide a printing technology center to offer instruction including two-color offset lithography, said Sherman. The necessary press would cost about $14,000.

Fair Program Has Variety Of Musical, Comedy Acts

Starts Wednesday

Singers, acrobats, vaudeville actors and variety performers will be appearing nightly at the Outagamie County Fair as part of the "Festival of Stars," to be given Thursday through Sunday at the Seymour Fairgrounds.

The "Festival" will round off five days of fairground entertainment beginning Wednesday with 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. performances of the "Grand Ole Opry."

Starting in the "Festival" will be the Harry Belafonte Folk Singers, Carmel Quinn, Rocky Rockwell, the Harmonicats, "Bobo" Barnett with his dogs and trumpet, and the Elkins sisters.

Six performances of the Festival will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, 9 p.m. Friday, 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. Saturday, and 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. Sunday.

The Folk Singers were organized in 1960 by Harry Belafonte. The group consists of 12 men specializing in the dramatic interpretation of folk music. It is directed by Belafonte's musical director, Robert DeCormier, who arranged and conducted all the calypso singer's recent records.

Seasoned Musicians

The individual members of the Folk Singers are seasoned musicians, many with degrees from colleges and music schools. Each one has begun a professional career on his own before joining the Belafonte Singers.

Coming from regular appearances on the Lawrence Welk Show will be Rocky Rockwell, who styles himself "The guy with the crew-cut hair and the gravel voice." Although Rockwell considers himself primarily a trumpeter, he is known at least as much for his singing as for his trumpet playing.

Began as Joke

His singing career began as a good-natured joke on the part of hand leader Welk, who asked Rockwell to sing just for the fun of it. Rockwell accepted the dare and caught on with the audience.

Besides singing and playing the trumpet, Rockwell attacks the trombone and does comedy.

Sporting an Irish flavor, singer Carmel Quinn is a singer whose career has included some opera. When she first came to the United States from Dublin on a vacation in 1953, she signed up for singing lessons through a newspaper advertisement. Instead of doing the Irish songs she expected, Miss Quinn was taught to sing opera.

When her teacher thought Miss Quinn was ready he had Miss Quinn audition for the Arthur Godfrey show. Instead of her planned number, — an American ballad, — Miss Quinn suddenly decided to sing an old Irish song. The audition clicked, Miss Quinn went on to win on the Godfrey program and became a regular on his daytime show.

Since then Miss Quinn has toured the United States and appeared on other shows, always specializing in the Irish songs that brought her early successes.

Four Juveniles Admit Damaging Drink Machine

LITTLE CHUTE — Four juvenile boys between 13 and 16 years have admitted to village police that they used a firecracker to force open the coin box of a soft drink dispensing machine in front of Weyenberg Grocery Store, 606 S. Wilson St., during the evening of July 5.

About $10 was taken from the machine, the owner of the store told police. The boys were released to their parents for disciplinary action and the parents have been ordered to make restitution for the stolen money and repairs to the machine.

Company Gets Permit For Plant Addition

A permit has been issued to Kools Brothers, Inc., Winnebago County Trunk P. to build a $65,000 addition to its plant.

The addition, which will be 233 feet long and 50 feet wide, one story high and of concrete construction, is to provide additional space for the firm's manufacture of farm machinery and ornamental iron railings.

Construction is to begin next week.

Nelson Signs Bill Designed To Speed Up Urban Renewal

MADISON — Gov. Gaylord Nelson today signed a bill designed to speed urban renewal by re-jurying the requirement under condemnation that not apply to which cities and villages have had to seek a jury verdict of necessity in order to condemn land.

Eliminates Requirement

The law eliminates the special requirement placed on cities and villages and gives them the same powers of condemnation used by the state, counties, towns and public utilities.

The original constitutional provision requiring cities and villages to go to court to have a jury declare the necessity of moving the requirement under condemnation did not apply to which cities and villages have had to seek a jury verdict of necessity in order to condemn land.

No change was made in the procedures to be followed by cities and villages except that necessity will be declared in the future by majority vote of the governing body — the city council or village board. Cities and villages will continue to follow the procedures established in the 1959 eminent domain law.

Around Home

WAUPACA — A young lover is being sought by the city police here for drawing a large heart and two sets of initials on an unfinished soft ceiling in the new Bethany home at Shadow Lake.

The drawing was discovered by the Rev. R. M. Paulson, director at the home. The initials were "D. H." and "J. H."

Vandalism also was reported at the partially completed west elementary school where a number of buckets of nails and plaster were tipped over.

olds, there are 1,112 (those under 1) to 1,246 (1-year-olds) children. The number in each category decreases with age in the 10 to 20-year categories. The smallest group is the 17-year-olds, born in the war years of 1943-44. It has 633 members.

Most of the school age population growth of the last year occurred in the areas north of Wisconsin Avenue and South of the Fox River.

The area between the River and Calumet Street, had 3,101 children, 226 more than a year before — a 10.9 per cent increase. The part of the city in Calumet County added 48 children, bringing the total there to 594.

Seven of nine areas in the school district had record highs in the school age census, two had declines. The Columbus School area, in the heart of the city, lost 17 children, leaving 843. The area's 1961 school census is the smallest since 1957, but it is still twice what it was in 1950.

Small Decrease

The southwestern part of the city, north of the river, has a school census of 2,074, a decrease of four — the first decrease since 1953.

The eastern part of the city, between the river and Wisconsin Avenue, served by Edison School, recorded its biggest increase since 1952. The school population there jumped 72 for a total of 1,375.

The northwest and northeast corners of the city — formerly districts 1 and 10 — have doubled in school population in six years. The northwest increased 101 to a new census of 1,257, including 94 in the area attached to the city for school purposes only. The northeast, served by Huntley School, increased 125 to a total of 1,691, including 72 for school purposes only.

Record populations also were recorded in the west central area, which increased 48 to a total of 2,394, and the north central area, which increased 155 to a total of 2,437.

Two 18-Year-Olds Pay for Conduct

KAUKAUNA — Two 18-year-old youths paid for disorderly conduct after trial before Oscar T. Jahns, justice of the peace, Monday.

Robert R. Wurdinger Jr., 18, 510 W. Sixth St., Kaukauna, was fined $62.75 and James G. Wilson, 18, 922 W. Grove St., Appleton, was fined $8.75.

The two were arrested about 9:15 p.m. July 5 at Ninth St. and Sullivan Avenue where they were trading punches, according to police.

Admits Guilt in Not Supporting Family

OSHKOSH — Robin L. Johnson, 32, 118 Olive St., Neenah, this morning admitted non-support of his wife and seven children since Jan. 1. Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane set sentencing for 10 a.m. Friday and ordered Johnson jailed without bond.

Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhilber said Johnson had been employed by a roofing firm and that work had been sporadic. He added that Johnson also has a drinking problem.

Shot in the Arm

NEW YORK (AP)—A deep split in Democratic ranks is spurring Republican hopes of capturing the mayoralty in the nation's largest city this fall.

The GOP is going all out because a triumph in the normally Democratic metropolis would be a shot in the arm to the party as a prelude to 1962's state and congressional elections and the 1964 presidential contest.

The fight will be uphill all the way. Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner, seeking a third four-year term, won in 1957 by almost 920,000 votes—1,507,342 to 587,440 for Republican Robert Christenberry, a hotel man.

On the Other Hand

But, on the other side of the picture, the position the Democrats have maneuvered themselves into has been described in press reports as a "Democratic civil war," a "donnybrook," a "carnage" and "sheer senselessness."

Wagner will be opposed in the Sept. 7 primary by State Comptroller Arthur Levitt.

The fight took shape after Wagner decided to run without the support of the party's city organization leaders, or "bosses."

This places him in a favorable light with party insurgents of the liberal wing and, it is reported unofficially, with the White House.

Wagner contended the leaders attempted to influence his choice of running mates and he said he would run only on a ticket of his own choosing.

The leaders retaliated by naming Levitt to oppose him.

Aside from fighting among themselves in the primary, the Democrats will be confronted in the Nov. 7 election by a Republican mayoral candidate of proven vote-getting ability — State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz. Christenberry, in contrast, was running for office for the first time in 1957.

Loss Would Be Setback

Wagner already has the Liberal party nomination and could run in the election even if he lost in the Democratic primary, but a primary loss would be a setback to his prestige.

President Kennedy, understood to favor Wagner, has been cool to the organization leaders here since last year's presidential campaign even though the organization backed him at the national convention and the state gave him a large election plurality.

The leaders were not in the forefront in getting on the Kennedy bandwagon prior to the convention, allowing the impression to spread for a time that they favored Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, former President Truman's choice.

Kennedy May Be Displeased

Also, Kennedy was understood to have been displeased that the insurgents were ranked organization leaders did not participate in a Kennedy rally in nomination of Manhattan Dist. New York City shortly before the Atty. Frank S. Hogan for U. S. election.

Freedom Board Wants Increase In School Funds

$14,000 Boost In Tax Levy Asked For Teacher Salaries

FREEDOM — Residents of Freedom Union High School District will be asked at their annual meeting Monday to approve a $14,000 increase in the high school tax levy.

The district board has proposed a $248,042 budget for 1961-62, compared with $230,426 for 1960-61. The tax levy will increase from $133,000 to $147,000.

The increase is due in part to a decrease in state aid and in part to additions to the faculty. Principal Henry W. Patch said. A half-time librarian, a full time foreign language teacher and a social studies and driver education teacher will be hired.

The district will elect a board member to succeed Marvin Murphy, whose term expires, and consider such routine matters as school calendar and textbook rental fees.

Bishop Sees Stormy Time For Christians

Ralph T. Alton
Speaks at Appleton
Methodist Church

"The period ahead in the life of the church will be a stormy one," said Bishop Ralph Taylor Alton Sunday morning when he returned to his former pulpit as guest speaker, at First Methodist Church. The congregation observed "Bishop's Sunday" as the first anniversary of the election of Alton as bishop last July at the jurisdictional conference in Grand Rapids.

"There are signs in the sky that predict a threatening time, but there are also some that are hopeful," the bishop said.

"The church—and by this term I mean the whole Christian Church—has reached an all time high—both in numbers and in material gains. However, I am afraid it has reached an all-time low in influence on life," Bishop Alton said. He claimed that much loyal devotion has been replaced by reverent respect.

He said that many persons today keep religion on the periphery of their life.

Fights for Life

Bishop Alton said that for many years theological students thought that Christianity was making the world a better place every day and that the church was more a part of life. In the last 10 years it has been seen that there are now forces in the world which are trying to—and can—destroy the church.

"Christianity is fighting for its life. Communism is a frightening aspect, but that isn't all. There is antinomianism and competition from other faiths, such as Buddhism and Islam, which have steadily growing and devoted missionary movements, Bishop Alton pointed out.

One of the most important steps the Christian Church is taking today is the new concern for motivation—not HOW to get people to church, but WHY, he said. He said the church should ask itself—are we here for a purpose, and are we serving this purpose.

Hope in Group

The bishop also saw great hope in the development of the small group. Here, he said, people were encouraging each other in how to be better Christians, a vitalizing influence on the life of the individual and the group.

The church has also developed a new awareness of the significance of the laymen. "Religion is not just for Sunday when you go to church—but should be for wherever you live," Bishop Alton said.

The Bishop said another hopeful sign is that the Christian Church is no longer trying to transplant Western Christianity to other parts of the world.

"Can the hopeful signs grow and overcome the blackening signs in the sky?" Bishop Alton asked. "Our best efforts should be in the direction of strengthening good influences on the life of the church."

Hearing Starts On Air Service In Midwest

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A hearing starts today in which several cities in seven states will be asked to prove they need North Central Airlines service.

Franklin Stone, examiner for the Civil Aeronautics Board, will hear testimony about retaining service to six cities in the Dakotas, Minnesota, and Illinois.

The board is also applying its "use it or lose it" test to five segments, or routes, in which the individual cities may be meeting requirements but which are not generating enough total traffic to support the mileage involved.

These routes include Duluth-Superior, Wis. via Ashland, Wis.; Ironwood, Marquette and Houghton, Mich. to Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. and Minneapolis-St. Paul via Marshallfield, Eau Claire and Appleton, Wis., to Milwaukee.

Vice president Frank Buttner said only part of the cities included in the segment investigations stand to lose North Central service, except as they would lose

Girl Dies at Madison As Sports Car Crashes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A sports car mishap in Madison just after midnight Monday claimed the life of a young woman and raised the state's 1961 traffic toll to 426. One year ago today there were 400 fatalities.

Judith Ann Michael, 21, was killed when she was crushed beneath a sports car that overturned after hitting the curb while passing another car on a Madison street. The driver, Richard B. Morgan, 21, stationed at Trux

Air Force Base, told police he had acquired the car only a week ago. He was treated for shock and minor injuries. Miss Michael, whose parents live near Waupun, was pronounced dead at Madison General Hospital at 12:02 a.m. today.

Two Admit Driving While Drunk De Pere, Oshkosh Men Pay Fines, Face Jail Sentence

Two men appeared in the Appleton and Oshkosh municipal courts today and Monday and pleaded guilty of drunken driving.

Joseph H. Metoxen, 35, route 2, West De Pere, paid $250 in fines in Appleton municipal court today before Judge Oscar Schmiede after admitting to both drunken driving and driving after his license had been revoked. His driver's license was revoked for another two years, in addition to the fines.

Police arrested Metoxen July 2 when they were called to investigate an accident on County Trunk E one mile north of its intersection with County Trunk EE.

Metoxen's car was found against a power pole. He admitted driving the car and refused a drunkometer test.

Ralph G. Bittner, 23, 1415 W. Bent Ave., Oshkosh, pleaded guilty of drunken driving and was given his choice of paying a $181 fine or spending 60 days in Winnebago County Jail by Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane Monday morning in Oshkosh Bittner's driving license was revoked.

Judge Cane cited two previous violations as the reason for the high fine.

Bittner was arrested at 2:55 a.m. Sunday by Oshkosh police who noticed him failing to stop for an arterial at Division Street and Pear Avenue.

13-Month Old Girl Drowns In Green Bay

Post-Crescent News Service
GREEN BAY — A 13-month old Preble girl drowned in Green Bay Monday evening while playing at her parent's cottage near Dyckesville.

Lisa Jane Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Martin, 419 Bretcoe Drive, was pronounced dead after firemen and three doctors worked for two hours in an unsuccessful attempt to revive her.

Chief Deputy Bernard Baye of the Brown County Sheriff Department said Lisa, her sister Julie, 10, and a friend, Sherry Boyce, 9, 2210 Birch Lane, were playing in the sand between the cottage and the water while Mrs. Martin did dishes.

The toddler apparently wandered toward the water unnoticed by the other girls. She was found a few minutes later face down in several inches of water.

The Luxembourg fire Department rescue squad was summoned, and began administering artificial respiration within 10 minutes after receiving the call at 7:30 p.m.

Three doctors who own cottages in the area also assisted firemen. The girl was pronounced dead about 9 15 p.m.

Martin, who operates a hardware store in Green Bay, had purchased the cottage three weeks ago.

Derks, Mrs. Fred Horn and Mrs. Edward Kositzke, all of Appleton; four grandchildren. Funeral services will be Thursday at 2 p.m. from the Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church, Kimberly, with interment in Riverside Cemetery, Appleton. Friends may call at the Jansen Funeral Home, Kimberly, after 2 p.m. Wednesday until noon Thursday and then at the church from noon until time of services.

That said petition be heard, at a term of said court to be held in the City of Appleton, County of Outagamie, State of Wisconsin, commencing on the 25th day of July, 1961, at the opening of court on that day or as soon thereafter as said petition can be heard.
That the time within which creditors of the deceased shall present claims against such estate for examination and allowance is hereby fixed and limited up to and including the 25th day of September, 1961.
That all claims against the deceased be examined and adjusted by the Court on the 25th day of September, 1961, at the opening of court on that day, or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard.

Dated July 26, 1961.
By the Court,
Joyce Schumaker
Register in Probate
Helmert and Engler, Attys.
Chilton, Wis.

Goliaths of Cold War Get Ready for Final Showdown

Moscow Confident, Arrogant, but Washington Stays Doubt-Ridden

BY PETER LISAGOR
Our Washington Bureau Chief
WASHINGTON — The two Goliaths of the Cold War are entering a showdown phase.
Moscow is blatantly arrogant about the outcome. Washington is uncertain, doubt-ridden and plagued by divided counsel.
To the average American, enjoying the highest standard of living known to modern society, preoccupied with crab grass on his lawn and vacation plans, this "war called peace" remains a problem for the politician and statesman.
He is vaguely disturbed by the headlines. He mutters about high tives. He wonders why Berlin, Laos, the Congo, Angola should concern him.

It is concludes a 20-part series of how the Cold War is affecting America. The series was written by staff members of the Chicago Daily News.

A nation that has mastered the art of communication has failed to communicate to him the simple fact that the Kremlin masterminds are at his throat.

After the stark Vienna confrontation, a high American official confided that "for the first time, I am worried about the future of my children."

His discovery was belated, but salutary. There may yet be time, however, if the United States and its allies find the answer to this question:

"How do we apply our power, prestige and purpose in the world to halt Communist imperialism?"

No Simple Answer

President Kennedy, and those who preceded him after World War II, have recognized there is no simple, single answer. They know the struggle will be long and taxing.

Ever since Josef Stalin's death and the Soviet development of a rough nuclear parity with the West, American policy has been based upon the uneasy belief that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev does not want a nuclear war.

The Soviet ruler, Washington policymakers believe, would stand back in a showdown, before he risked destruction of the factories, the dams, the cities, the dwellings and vast public works the Communists have built in their 40 years of power.

The Russian rulers appear to have made a similar judgment about the West.

The central difference between the two power blocs is that the Communists, goaded by a doctrine of inevitable triumph, are acting on their analysis with a ruthless, relentless assault around the edges of their sprawling empire.

They are using intimidation, threats, strong-arm, imminent threat of nuclear methods — and guns — a fact that somehow gets lost in the talk about "Cold War."

Instead of acting as though Moscow would shrink at an destruction, the Western powers themselves have shrunk at the prospect.

Doesn't Want Cities?

Their uneasy belief that Khrushchev doesn't want his cities jeopardized has withered in the face of challenge. They hide a palpable lack of resolve in places such as Laos with bold talk — and a quick rush to the negotiating table.

Twice since World War II, the actions of non-Communist states have brought the Communists to the conference room — the Berlin blockade and the Korean War.

The latter was costly in blood and treasure, although limited in scope, but it halted a Red grab and undoubtedly upset the Stalin timetable.

On most other occasions, the Reds have wagged their fingers, sometimes threateningly, often with a beguiling propaganda skill, and produced summit conferences and talks at lower levels.

It is, of course, true that democratic nations lack the elbow room to maneuver enjoyed by the totalitarian society. They must operate within the restraints imposed by allies — and by popular will — to a far greater degree than do dictators.

Inaction in Crises

But can this excuse inaction in a crisis? Is it good enough to meet the challenge, the threat? Khrushchev says the West and the world have six months in which to accept solution on Berlin.

He ridicules the nuclear test ban talks, plays a cynical game with Laos, smirks in triumphant expectation about Iran, jauntily endorses so-called "wars of liberation," meaning wars that favor the Communists.

And the Allies, until very recently, have viewed all this evidence with disbelief, with Micawber-like hope that if only another conference could be arranged, something would turn up.

They have either forgotten, or chosen to ignore, that the West is not without immense resources, beyond the power to retaliate massively if attacked.

In Eastern Europe, which has been the cockpit of two world wars, the Russians cannot count on support from the people in a showdown.

Poles Wouldn't Join

The Poles, for example, barely tolerant of their Communist masters, would scarcely join a crusade to uphold Khrushchev's vision of a well-ordered Berlin.

Not even the East Germans — what is left of them after years of exodus to the West — can be wholly relied upon. The memory of June, 1953, when they threw stones at Soviet tanks in a short-lived uprising, is not easy for the Communists to erase.

The trouble Khrushchev may be having with his Chinese Communist allies can only be imagined.

But it, too, could be a brake upon his derring-do lest he abandon the leadership of the world Communist movement to his Peiping comrades.

Unfortunately, from the avail-

Moscow Straightens Up

—Those who believe Moscow will straighten up and fly right only if the United States shows the will to move its troops into place and to drop its big bombs, if necessary, whether the terrain is favorable or not.

(This group points to President Eisenhower's decision to land troops in Lebanon in 1958, an action based upon an intelligence misjudgment but which had the fortunate consequences of creating some stability in the Middle East and perhaps of causing the Chinese Reds to shrink back on Quemoy and Matsui.)

—Those who believe that nuclear war is unthinkable and therefore no test of nerve and will ought to be risked. Negotiate is their battle cry.

(On Berlin, this group would argue that the three Allied powers, Britain, France and the United States, conceivably could improve their position at the conference table, despite Khrushchev's clear, insistent warning that he wants them out of the city.)

—Those who believe the West can afford further losses without ultimately losing the ball game so long as it chooses the place for a showdown that promises at least an equal chance of success. (This group, like the others, believes in other tools, massive aid and assistance of all kinds to the struggling nations, domestic progress, better propaganda about Western ideals and motives, and all the rest.)

Wrong Analogy Used

A knowledgeable Soviet authority says this is the wrong analogy. He offers a substitute. Imagine that you and your family are riding in a troika (a Russian vehicle drawn by three horses) in mid-winter in Siberia, with the snow six feet deep.

Your troika is pursued by a pack of wolves, ever gaining on you. You can halt them briefly by standing up and shooting one of the lead wolves. The pack will drop back for a time and then start the pursuit again.

Or you can throw the baby to the wolves. This, too, will cause them to halt while they devour the child. But as soon as they hunger again, they will resume their relentless pursuit.

It is not a happy analogy but in its bleakness it tells something about the nature of the struggle, the need for strong nerves, clear thinking and a will to preserve a way of life, if not life itself.

Austria Building Line Of Defense on Borders

First of System of Fortifications

Finished on Communist Hungary Border

VIENNA (AP) — Austria is building a modern system of fortifications to defend its neutrality in case of attack.

The Austrian Defense Ministry says it is constructing such systems on all frontiers, but the first line completed was the eastern frontier, bordering Communist Hungary.

It was shown to reporters by Defense Minister Karl Schleizer. It is a 12-mile wide belt of bunkers, obstacles, antitank guns and barbed wire entanglements between the Danube and Lake Neusiedl.

The system closes what is known as the Gate of Bruck, a gap in a range of hills south of the Danube River near the town of Bruck on the Lautha. This gate was used by attacking Mongols, Tartars and Turks.

"The installations of the Austrian defense are no fortifications of old and are not intended to be imitations of the Magot Line or the West Wall," the defense ministry says.

"They are a combat and protective system for small units that will have the task of preventing, or at least delaying, the progress of an aggressor."

The bunkers are two floors below ground. They have their own central heating, air-conditioning and electric power plants. There are also underground surgery wards. The bunkers are radiation safe.

Schleizer said the costs for building the Eastern Defense line were "relatively low" but a military secret.

Trillionaire Status Works In Both Ways

Treasury Secretary Warns Debt at All Levels Tops Trillion

NEW YORK (AP)—Today we are trillionaires. The new status works both ways.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon says America's total debt at all levels tops a trillion dollars for the first time.

But look at the balance sheet of Americans as individuals. Their current assets are put at $959 billion. Add their fixed assets of $607 billion, and U.S. citizens can claim to be worth $1,566,000,000,000.

Debt Continues to Rise
Of course, Secretary Dillon points out at the same time that individual debt totals $296 billion and continues to rise.

And as citizens we have a responsibility for the $290 billion federal debt and the $69 billion state and local debts. As stockholders, they have an interest in corporate debt of $358 billion. (Corporate assets are much higher than this, and governments have financial and tangible assets, too.)

Can you as American citizens afford to carry all this debt? A lot of people say no. But look at the brighter side of the financial balance sheet.

At the 1961 halfway point personal income is running at $414 billion a year. And personal savings have been climbing in the first half of 1961. Then there are those financial assets of $959 billion.

That figure is garnered from reports of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Reserve Board, and the Department of Commerce.

Figured This Way
The financial assets include $34 billions in preferred and common stocks, $102 billion in government securities, $47 billion in other securities such as corporate bonds and notes, nearly $67 billion in savings and loan associations and credit unions, more than $181 billion in currency and bank deposits. To that are added more than $149 billion in private insurance and pension reserves and $70 billion in various government insurance and pension reserves.

The fixed assets are figured this way: $404 billion equity in home ownership and $203 billion in current value of durable goods owned. The durable-goods equity is figured by totalling consumer purchases in the last 10 years, depreciated at 10 per cent annually.

Wrong Analogy Used

A knowledgeable Soviet authority says this is the wrong analogy. He offers a substitute. Imagine that you and your family are riding in a troika (a Russian vehicle drawn by three horses) in mid-winter in Siberia, with the snow six feet deep.

Your troika is pursued by a pack of wolves, ever gaining on you. You can halt them briefly by standing up and shooting one of the lead wolves. The pack will drop back for a time and then start the pursuit again.

Or you can throw the baby to the wolves. This, too, will cause them to halt while they devour the child. But as soon as they hunger again, they will resume their relentless pursuit.

It is not a happy analogy but in its bleakness it tells something about the nature of the struggle, the need for strong nerves, clear thinking and a will to preserve a way of life, if not life itself.
